Leading global analyst firms concur that CIOs see IT playing a distinctive role in driving enterprise strategy, over the next three years. It is no surprise then that despite economic concerns, global enterprise IT budget growth remains unchanged in 2008. The global IT outsourcing market is also forecasted to continue to grow at a steady pace.

But winds of change are sweeping across the global IT sourcing landscape. Large companies in the midst of various transformation programmes, are looking to their IT service providers to play an increasingly collaborative role in this strategic makeover. As one paradigm shifts, so does the other - the focus is moving from cost saving to value creation. Organizations are realizing that value creation is critical to unlocking sustainable growth. For players in the IT space, the resulting challenge is to shed the skin of IT service provider and reinvent oneself as a value creator.

The metamorphosis is already unfolding at Patni. The company has been proactively transforming itself from an IT powerhouse to a strategic business value creator, with an intrinsic appreciation of emerging client requirements, market shifts and the changing nature of competition. A strategic plan is already under implementation. Business strategies are being revisited, strengthened and aligned with one overarching objective in mind: To bring about a transformation for success.

Letter to shareholders

chairman s review

Despite the many challenges that 2007 posed, Patni has been able to deliver sustained growth by focusing on improving our internal operations while increasing our reach to customers worldwide. Our continuing emphasis on operating efficiencies is reflected in a visible improvement in our utilizations, offshore leverage and resultant operating margins, which have helped neutralize the impacts of the fast appreciating Rupee.

During the year, we made significant progress on several corporate initiatives:

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

We made two acquisitions, namely that of Logan-Orviss International in the Telecom space, and Taratec a high-end Life Science Consultancy; this helped to enhance our strategic positioning in the market place and deepen our business verticals.

- Continuing our quest to move towards end-to-end solutions-based services, we invested in intellectual property in our Telecom vertical.
- We signed a US$ 200 million multi-year outsourcing deal with The Carphone Warehouse to provide it end-to-end integrated services.
- We strengthened our management team in Europe and the Global HR function.

Overall, our focus continues to be to diversify our business-mix both at the geography and services lines level. We will continue to make investments to deepen our domain capability and solutions-led services and plan to aggressively enhance these through, both organic and inorganic means.

To strengthen our management team and help us transform our business in the changing market environment, we have appointed Mr. Louis Theodoor van den Boog as Executive Director. His vast experience in helping global companies grow will be an asset to our business.

Industry Environment

NASSCOM reports continued growth for the Indian IT industry. The industry grew from US$ 37.4 billion in 2006 to US$ 48 billion in 2007 and is projected to grow to US$ 64 billion in 2008. Both export and domestic markets have shown growth across all IT sectors and projections support further healthy growth.

Exports remain the mainstay of the industry and are estimated to touch US$ 40.3 billion in 2008. Banking, Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI) remains the largest vertical market for Indian IT-BPO exports, followed by high-technology, telecom, manufacturing and retail.

While the US and UK remained the largest export markets in 2007, the IT industry is steadily increasing its exposure to other geographies. Exports to Continental Europe have grown notably, at a CAGR of over 55% over 2004-7.

Even as the growth remains promising, the challenges for the IT industry are multiplying manifold.

- Customers are driven to lowest cost supplier. The cost advantage which served India well up to now is reducing. But long-term demographics are still in India's favor.
- The India story is now being adopted by many other countries, so Indian players need to look beyond the country to create more globally relevant models.
- Scale is becoming important, therefore M&As become critical. Acquiring boutique businesses does have its advantages, but acquiring bigger businesses may become more relevant.
- Customers are demanding solutions, not services. Innovation will therefore lead growth in the future.

Corporate Performance

The Company reported a revenue growth of 14.5% to US$ 662.9 million from US$ 578.9 million in 2006; corresponding net income increased by 44% (excluding additional provisions). Through some strong fiscal discipline including operations and forex management, our net earnings during the year expanded by 44% to US$ 114 million, resulting in an overall operating margin of 18%.

We received the prestigious Golden Peacock Award for Training excellence, during the year. We were also covered in Gartner's Offshore Application Services Magic Quadrant 2007 .

Some of the other prestigious listings which featured Patni included:

- 2007 FinTech 100 Ranking
- NASSCOM's 100 IT Innovators for 2007

- Osourcebook Global Services 100: 2008.

Integration Reaps Rewards

During the year, we consolidated and repurposed a number of Business Units (BUs), specifically the delivery organization of the Banking, Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI); Communications, Media & Entertainment (CME); and the Customer Interaction Services (CIS) & BPO, to align with the market. This move was intended to not only leverage operational efficiencies, but more importantly to utilize the resultant scale and the synergy between the technology practices and common service lines for improved investment and growth opportunity.

We focused on strengthening the integrated service delivery across our vertical and horizontal BUs, to ensure better servicing of our customers.

We focused on strengthening the integrated service delivery across our vertical and horizontal BUs, to ensure better servicing of our customers.

Insurance continued to retain the distinction of being the highest revenue and highest margin business unit in 2007, adding a net of 22 new customers. In order to better leverage market opportunities and enhance our domain expertise, the BU has also embarked on a solutions development program, under which we plan to build specific solutions for policy administration consolidation, long-term care and new business fulfillment.

Financial Services (FS) ended the year with a significant portion of its growth coming from long-term relationships. ABN AMRO ranked second in revenue contribution to the BU even in the face of its acquisition. A strong momentum and foundation was created in the Asset Management and Benefits segment, including high-end BPO/KPO services. During the year, we also set up the relationships to service FS clients out of Brazil.

Manufacturing posted 23% growth over 2006 and expanded its strategic relationships with several key clients, besides adding some marquee names to its portfolio. The new sub-vertical, Life Sciences, added through the acquisition of Taratec Development Corporation, has brought in relationships with a number of major players in the pharmaceuticals, bio-medical and medical devices space. The BU also worked to bring to market two new offerings in the BPO space both targeted to the drug safety area.

In 2007, we also launched a Business Consulting Services practice within the Manufacturing BU, focused on helping several clients leverage technology to improve business operations, besides providing due diligence, integration and transformation services to private equity firms and corporations engaged in mergers & acquisitions.

Communications, Media & Entertainment BU continued to pursue a strong integrated strategy for providing consulting, systems integration, and outsourcing services. It established a Consulting capability through the acquisition of Logan Orviss, a consulting company with strong global relationships with high-profile customers. It also signed a large deal with The Carphone Warehouse which is expected to generate US$ 200 million over 5 years. The BU has established a strong solutions capability and developed a telco in a box solution to enable it to implement next-generation telecom solutions with fast time-to-market and reduced risk.

The Product Engineering Services (PES) BU continues to be our growth engine with an impressive revenue growth of 40% in 2007, and a portfolio of about 50 new customers across diverse industries. The PES BU now nurtures around 120+ customer relationships with the world's leading R&D and technology enterprises and OEMs.

The consolidation of the PES and ISV business units has been a very successful strategic move as PES now projects itself as a complete product development partner to support all layers of technology enablement under one umbrella covering: chip design, hardware development, embedded systems development, and application software & enterprise platform development. We continue to maintain our leadership position in the medical, storage, and automation domains.

The Growth Industries BU registered a significant year-on-year revenue growth of over 40%, adding 20 new customers. The solutions team developed a suite of domain/technology based frameworks, specifically the InfoXchange Framework in the area of transportation & logistics; MCR a framework for multi-channel retailing; and a .NET based framework for Web-based applications.

The Enterprise Application Solutions (EAS) BU grew its revenues by 24% over the previous year, with strong growth in the SAP practice. It improved its profit performance substantially by employing best practices in supply chain. It also started its EAS Academy operations, training more than 300 employees during the year.

Infrastructure Management Services grew by 40% in 2007. During the year, the BU commenced a dedicated in-house training lab, and a second new and improved Global Visibility Centre (GVC) in Airoli. The BU achieved ISO- 20000-1:2005 certification in the IT Service Delivery for Remote Infrastructure Management delivered through these GVCs.

The CIS & BPO BU recorded a spectacular revenue increase of almost 200% during the year. This performance stands as a validation of our strategy to stay focused in a limited number of complex and high-value services, and to take our integrated IT+ BPO + IMS offerings to the market. Patni is a market leader in select service lines like actuarial services, benefits administration, asset management and healthcare for senior citizens. Our CIS practice focuses on providing integrated L1 help desk services for applications like SAP, storage devices for EMC, medical devices and infrastructure. The BU launched a new practice for KPO for actuarial valuations, analytics and life sciences.

The Business Intelligence practice grew by 20% in 2007, and added 14 new customers. We also acquired the Microsoft Gold Certified Partner status, which will serve as a key competency going forward. We also developed and took to market several value-added solutions, including a CIO dashboard framework, industry-focused solutions such as a retail management framework, telecom business dashboard and a framework for automation of performance management for insurance companies. We also started initiatives for exploring an open source BI technology suite and have conceptualized and implemented the BI competency center framework as a new offering.

The Verification & Validation (V&V) Center of Excellence (CoE) registered growth of around 30% in 2007. It also launched new service lines such as testing of SOA (Service Oriented Architecture) applications, packaged application testing for ERP packages and portfolio management applications. The Managed Test Center offering provided customers with end-to-end testing solutions from test process assessment, standard test management process and dashboards, along with automation and performance frameworks.

The Business Process Management (BPM) CoE strengthened its service offerings by expanding its solutions across most leading BPM suite platforms. The CoE's reference frameworks and process templates help deliver value-added solutions to customers.

The IT Governance CoE leveraged its proprietary and comprehensive life-cycle services spanning advisory & consultative services, multi-platform implementation and application development & maintenance services, and specialized value-added services to deliver significant solutions to its customers. There was noteworthy growth in its consultative solutions service offerings.

Regional Performance

During the year, we focused on capturing growing outsourcing opportunities in emerging markets of the Europe and APAC regions, to diversify our revenue base.

The US region continued to be the dominant revenue driver with a 78% contribution of the total revenue in 2007.

We focused on capturing growing outsourcing opportunities in emerging markets of the Europe and APAC regions, to diversify our revenue base.

The Europe region continued to grow rapidly with a revenue increase of 45%.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

Our Asia Pacific business, still in the nurturing stages, grew by 24%, and seventeen new accounts were added.

Infrastructure

During the year 2007, we continued to augment our offshore development facilities at a rapid pace. We have added 312000 sq. ft. of office space at Mumbai East & Hyderabad. This has increased our capacity for offshore work by over 2800 seats.

In keeping with the Company's policy to have its own campus operations, land has been acquired in four more locations, namely Hinjewadi at Pune; Noida SEZ area; in Kokapeta IT Park, Hyderabad; and in the IT SEZ Park, Kolkata.

All the completed facilities are state-of-the-art, with most modern services, up-to-date security systems, and fully landscaped areas with peripheral drive ways, walking areas, and recreational facilities.

People Initiatives

We continued to build our Management Team and globalize our workforce. At the close of 2007, our employee strength stood at 14,945, an addition of 2141 employees over 2006. We added 18 senior management personnel at the Vice-President level and above, during the year. A number of employee engagement initiatives were introduced to reduce attrition.

During 2007, Patni Academy for Competency Enhancement (PACE) delivered close to 104,000 participant days of technical training and 13000 person days of behavioral and leadership training, averaging to over 8.5 person days per employee. The entry level training program (PPP) covered 1600 participants in 2007, representing an increase of over 30% compared to 2006.

PACE conducted several workshops for around 200 Project Managers based at customer locations in US and UK. Apart from this, several technical programs were conducted for on-site people.

Several new training programs were launched during the year; specifically a specialized role based training program for Team Leads, and a Training Program for Designer Certification. Under the collaborative model with BITS, Pilani a two-year MS program in Embedded Systems was introduced.

We are focusing on building and enhancing our consulting capabilities, and frameworks, solutions and platform-enabled services across our verticals and horizontals.

2008 and Beyond

In 2008 we see the business environment changing significantly with an appreciated Rupee, and concern around overall IT spending due to looming issues in the US. The overall global environment poses its challenges to the outsourcing industry in India which is moving into the next phase of its evolution of competing with major global players. Despite these external challenges and the internal ones arising from the changes in our client and geography mix and poor revenue visibility, we believe we are ready to face the challenging times ahead.

With the growing commoditization of global services, we are aggressively working towards differentiating ourselves. We are finding ways to extend our value chain and bolster bottom-line. To be able to deliver tangible results to our global customers, we are focusing on building our consulting capabilities, frameworks, solutions and platform-enabled services across our verticals and horizontals.

Going forward, we remain confident about our business momentum and are optimistic of our growth prospects over the mid- and long-term.

Regards,

Narendra K. Patni

Transformation For success

During the last thirty years of Patni's evolution, we have witnessed disruptive shifts in the market, braved global competition and are now poised to take the next leap.

The global sourcing market has matured from those days when India was considered to be a source of low-cost manpower. Today, it has earned the distinction of being a preferred destination for intellectual capital that accelerates the trend - globalization of services. Going ahead, Indian companies are bracing up for the challenge of providing end-to-end business domain-focused solutions, leveraging intellectual property (IP) in form of solution accelerators, frameworks and service delivery methodologies.

As forces of globalization sweep the business landscape, Organizations across the world are seeking to tap the benefits of global sourcing by:

- Reducing operating costs
- Re-constructing the business value chain on a global sourcing model
- Increasing business velocity

- Expanding footprint into emerging markets
- Leveraging global resources to tide over the shortage of skilled resources.

Adversity is good. Challenge, after all, provokes one to rise above the ordinary. Without challenge there would be little incentive for growth.

Our clients too want to use global sourcing as a business lever and look at us to be their strategic partner . They expect us to be a mature global services company that understands their business and has agility, and scalable technology/capability to enable them to meet their business needs profitably. Several of our customers have already integrated us in the rolling out of their strategic growth plans. Clearly, the focus of global sourcing is shifting towards seeking a partner for business transformation, who can create business value through a strong alignment of domain expertise, process maturity and technology competencies.

As unprecedented opportunities open up for us, we are also faced with a stiff global competition. The competition is no longer based on low-cost resources. It has become more complex with competitors being able to offer similar services at comparable prices and with clients and prospects looking at value beyond cost, quality and productivity.

As a global organization with globally distributed clientele, we have laid down transformational objectives to survive and grow in an increasingly complex business environment. The transformation has to address the following challenges:

- Cultural Challenge: Over time, the complexity of our organization has grown manifold with multiple business units, full-spectrum service offerings, large delivery infrastructure, clientele spread across the world, and most importantly, multi-cultural, multi-ethnic workforce. It is a significant challenge to transform the organization predominantly having an India-centered work-force to that having a global culture. There is a compelling need to identify leaders and change agents across all levels in the organization to deliver competitive performance.

The perfect client relationship emerges from not just understanding the client but being the client. One must imperatively think, perceive and act like the client.

- Process Challenge: Patni's business and technology processes have evolved over three decades while adapting to the changing needs of the markets. Going ahead, we need to further deepen the depth of our delivery organization. It is important to fine tune our service delivery processes and transform them to the next level of maturity through standardization and adopting global best practices, to drive quality, efficiency and speed.
- Structural Challenge: We need to adopt a simplified organizational structure that eliminates siloed existence of business units and promotes cross-unit integration, enabling accountability, endowing responsibility and improving coordination across functional and regional boundaries.

While we are implementing a slew of measures to negotiate the above challenges, we have multiple reasons to be optimistic and feel confident that our efforts for large-scale organizational transformation will succeed. Following are some of the measures that we have taken in order to shape the transformation agenda.

- Aligning the go-to-market approach with domain expertise: We continue to grow our business domain expertise through acquisitions, hiring and training. All of our client interactions are led by domain experts who understand our client's business well and are able to align our technology expertise to meet the client's expectations through an integrated domain, process and technology offering. Some of our clients have even acknowledged that our domain expertise has been a key instrument in their success with business outcomes.

Knowledge is power. The power to stay one step ahead of the competition. The power to preempt change. The power to excel.

- Introducing structural changes for accountability and profitability: We recognize the need for a simplified structure that organizes all the business units around the objectives of efficient service delivery and drives performance by optimizing resource utilization and fulfillment of accountability at all levels. Accordingly, we have taken measures to rationalize our operating structure. The recent consolidation of our CRM, EAI and Business Intelligence teams into the new business unit called Customer Dynamics and Integration (CDI), and the separation of Help Desk from BPO to form Customer Interaction Services (CIS) are steps in that direction.
- Seeking delivery excellence: Our delivery engine has evolved into a mature global delivery platform over three decades of experience and serves as a robust foundation for our business initiatives. We continue to strengthen our delivery capabilities through knowledge of emerging models and best practices in the global markets. The global sourcing and operations team that we set up last year has made a difference by providing resourcing support and helped the delivery and sales teams maintain focus on customer satisfaction.
- Pursuing client centricity: Over the years we have maintained a sharp focus on building long standing relationships. Over 90% of our total global revenues come from repeat business. At least thirty of our top fifty clients have been with us for over five years. Some of these have been with us for over ten years. To grow our existing client-engagements into productive relationships, we have created an account management structure which will focus on continuously enhancing the value proposition for our customers. Creation of the role of client partner focused on domain-led solutions, consulting and account management, has enabled us deepen our relationship with our key customers and gain acceptance as a strategic partner. We have initiated discussions with most of our customers and have started influencing their strategic agenda. We also have reorganized our sales teams, to make a clear distinction between new business specialists and account management specialists. Going ahead, we will continue to build new operating models capable of delivering unprecedented levels of customer value.

Cost should never be confused with value. Cost is temporary, value is permanent.

- Moving up the service value chain: We have taken conscious steps towards building capabilities in consulting and are positioning ourselves as a partner who can provide business value along with full-scope IT services. We have created consulting and solutions teams in our industry practices. Our acquisitions of Logan Orviss International and Taratec Development Corporation have helped us to bolster our consulting services respectively in the Telecom and Life Sciences business. Our recent success with the The Carphone Warehouse Group Plc, is recognition of our ability as a high-end value provider.

- Creating sustainable value for our clients: Though cost reduction is not the only reason for our clients to come to us, cost management is certainly one of the key objectives of their outsourcing decision. We not only help our clients to reap one-time cost benefits through an optimal on-site-off-shore mix, but also help them with progressive cost benefits and productivity gains through our process optimization services. We are expanding our network of global delivery centers beyond India, the USA and the UK regions. We plan to make necessary investments to set up and grow world-class delivery facilities in Latin America, South Africa and China.

Today, innovation is a vastly evolved concept. The shift from being a rarefied virtue to an absolute necessity equates innovation with survival itself.

Responding to the shift in the marketplace from effort-based pricing to value-based pricing, we have introduced new pricing models based on value-creation and have been able to register new wins.

- Rationalizing cost structures: To offset wage and rupee inflation, we are relentlessly focused on improving operating efficiencies and reducing expenditures. We closely monitor the cost structures and have taken measures for the prudent management of SG&A expenses. Besides enforcing financial discipline on the cost-side, the management is also focused on enhancing the revenue side by improving utilizations, pricing and per capita productivity.
- Fostering innovation: We promote a culture of risk-taking and have put in place an effective process to foster innovation. We invest significantly to build the requisite R&D wherewithal to enable us to stay on the forefront of latest business and technology trends. Our domain experts and solutions teams across all of our practices are entrusted with the responsibility of creating intellectual property (IP) in form of repeatable frameworks, solution accelerators and service delivery methodologies aimed at improving speed, and achieving predictability in service delivery.

Having got our basics right, we are aggressively investing in building on our strengths for a bright future. We are a right-sized organization enabling flexibility to respond quickly to the changing market dynamics. We are aggressively working towards adopting a focused differentiated market strategy and building a strong brand. We are confident that in due time, we will unlock the combined potential of our intangible assets, namely, knowledge capital, customer relationships, delivery infrastructure and IP-driven domain solutions to create an unmatched value proposition for our customers.

2 Significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation of financial statements

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) under the historical cost convention with the exception of land and buildings of Patni, which have been revalued, on the accrual basis of accounting. GAAP comprises mandatory accounting standards as specified in the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 and the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956.

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires that management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities as of the date of financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

2.2 Fixed assets and depreciation

Fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, except for items of land and buildings which were revalued in March 1995. Cost includes inward freight, duties, taxes and incidental expenses related to acquisition and installation of the asset. Depreciation is provided on the Straight Line Method (SLM) based on the estimated useful lives of the assets as determined by the management. For additions and disposals, depreciation is provided pro-rata for the year of use.

The rates of depreciation based on the estimated useful lives of fixed assets are higher than those prescribed under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956. The useful lives of fixed assets are stated below:

Asset	Useful life (in years)
Leasehold land and improvements	Over the lease period or the useful life of the assets, which ever is shorter
Buildings	40
Electrical installations	8
Computers, computer software and other service equipments	3
Furniture and fixtures	8
Office equipments	5
Vehicles	5

2.3 Impairment of Assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit which the asset belongs to, is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognized in the profit and loss account. If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of depreciable historical cost.

(Currency: in thousands of Indian Rupees except share data)

2.4 Leases

In accordance with Accounting Standard 19 Accounting for leases, assets acquired on finance leases, have been recognised as an asset and a liability at the inception of the lease, at an amount equal to the lower of the fair value of the leased asset or the present value of the future minimum lease payments. Such leased assets are depreciated over the lease term or its estimated useful life, whichever is shorter. Further, the payment of minimum lease payments have been apportioned between finance charges, which are debited to the profit and loss account, and reduction in lease obligations recorded at the inception of the lease.

Lease arrangements, where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vests with the lessor, are recognised as operating leases. Lease payments under operating lease are recognised as an expense in the profit and loss account.

2.5 Revenue and cost recognition

The Company derives its revenues primarily from software development activities. Revenue from time-and-material contracts is recognised as related services are rendered. Revenue from fixed-price contracts is recognised on a percentage of completion basis, measured by the percentage of costs incurred to-date to estimated total costs for each contract. This method is used because management considers costs to be the best available measure of progress on these contracts.

Contract costs include all direct costs such as direct labour and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as depreciation, satellite link costs and foreign travel costs. Selling, general, and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provision for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the year in which such losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, estimated profitability and final contract settlements may result in revision to costs and income and are recognised in the year in which the revisions are determined.

The asset Cost and estimated earnings in excess of billings, represents revenues recognised in excess of amounts billed. These amounts are billed after the milestones specified in the agreement are achieved and the customer acceptance for the same is received. The liability Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings, represents billings in excess of revenues recognised.

Revenue on maintenance contracts is recognized on a straight-line basis over the period of the contract. Direct and incremental contract origination and set up costs incurred in connection with support/maintenance service arrangements are charged to expense as incurred. These costs are deferred only in situations where there is a contractual arrangement establishing a customer relationship for a specified year. The costs to be deferred are limited to the extent of future contractual revenues. Further, revenue attributable to set up activities is deferred and recognised systematically over the years that the related revenues are earned, as services performed during set up year do not result in the culmination of a separate earnings process.

The Company grants volume discounts to customers in the form of free services in future. The Company accounts for such volume discounts by allocating a portion of the revenue on the related transactions to the service that will be delivered in future. Further, other volume discount and rebates are also deducted from revenue.

Revenues from BPO Services are derived from both time-based and transaction-priced contracts. Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed, in accordance with the specific terms of the contracts with the customer.

Dividend income is recognized when the Company's right to receive dividend is established. Interest income is recognized on the time proportion basis.

2.6 Employee retirement and other benefits

Contributions to the provident fund, which is a defined contribution scheme, are charged to the profit and loss account in the year in which the contributions are incurred.

Gratuity, pension, sick leave and leave encashment costs, which are defined benefits, are based on actuarial valuations carried out by an independent actuary at the balance sheet date.

The Company provides compensatory-offs to its employees, which entitle the employees to avail paid leave in future periods for services already rendered. These entitlements are not encashable by the employees. The Company makes provision for such compensatory absences by estimating the likely salary payable to the employees availing such leave based on historical data of such entitlements availed in the past.

2.7 Foreign currency transactions

India Operations

Transactions in foreign currency are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rate. Exchange rate differences resulting from foreign exchange transactions settled during the year, including year-end translation of monetary assets and liabilities are recognised in the profit and loss account.

In respect of forward exchange contracts which hedge the foreign currency risk of the underlying outstanding at the year-end or which hedge a firm commitment or highly probable forecasted transactions, the Company values these contracts based on the spot rate at the year-end and the resultant gain or loss is included in the profit and loss account. The premium or discount on all forward exchange contracts arising at the inception of each contract is amortised as income or expense over the life of the contract.

(Currency: in thousands of Indian Rupees except share data)

The Company has also entered into foreign currency option contracts in the nature of purchase options and combination options (these options) with expiration dates which range upto twenty nine months. These net written options are revalued at fair values at reporting period end, with any profit or loss arising on the revaluation being recognised in the profit and loss account. The premium paid on purchase options is marked to market (MTM) and the resultant gains / losses are recognised in the profit and loss account.

Foreign branch office operations

Income and Expenditure other than depreciation costs are translated into the reporting currency at the prevailing exchange rates at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at balance sheet date are translated at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the balance sheet. Fixed assets are translated at exchange rates on the date of the transaction and depreciation on fixed assets is translated at the exchange rates used for translation of the underlying fixed assets. Net exchange difference resulting from translation of items, in the financial statements of the foreign branches is recognised in the profit and loss account.

2.8 Investments

Long-term investments are stated at cost, and provision for diminution is made when in the management's opinion there is a decline, other than temporary, in the carrying value of such investments. Current investments are carried at lower of cost and fair value.

2.9 Taxation

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense, deferred tax expense or credit and fringe benefit tax is computed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Provision for current taxes is recognised under the taxes payable method based on the estimated tax liability computed after taking credit for allowances and exemptions in accordance with the Indian Income-tax Act, 1961. In case of matters under appeal, full provision is made in the financial statements when the Company accepts the liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to timing differences that result between the profits offered for income taxes and the profits as per the financial statements of the Company. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and the tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised only to the extent that there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Other deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably / virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realised.

Substantial portion of the profits of the Company are exempted from income tax, being profits from undertakings situated at Software Technology Parks. Under the tax holiday, the Company can utilise exemption of profits from income taxes for a period of ten consecutive years. The Company has opted for this exemption and these exemptions expire on various dates between years 2005 and 2009. In this regard, the Company recognises deferred taxes in respect of those originating timing differences, which reverse after the tax holiday year resulting in tax consequences. Timing differences, which originate and reverse within the tax holiday year do not result in tax consequence and therefore no deferred taxes are recognised in respect of the same. For this purpose, the timing differences, which originate first are considered to reverse first.

2.10 Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity shareholders for the year by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable, had the shares been actually issued at fair value. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless they have been issued at a later date. The number of shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for stock splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.11 Provisions and contingent liabilities

The Company creates a provision when there is present obligation as a result of a past event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements. However, contingent assets are assessed continually and if it is virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits will arise, the asset and related income are recognized in the period in which the change occurs.

10A of Indian Income Tax Act exempts the profits earned by an undertaking for the export of computer software upon fulfilment of certain conditions. One of the condition is that the unit should not have been formed by the splitting of an existing business. The Company had only expanded its software development business whereas the Income Tax department contends that the business of the new units is comprised of business transferred from existing units by splitting them. The Company, in consultation with its tax advisor, filed an appeal in January 2007 challenging the disallowance.

One of the requirements under the Indian Income Tax Rules to proceed with an appeal is to deposit, either immediately or through monthly installments, a sum equivalent to 50% of the amount that is under appeal. Until 31 December 2007, the Company has deposited a sum of Rs. 269,167. Considering the facts and nature of disallowances and based on the advice given by the Company's legal counsel, management believes that the disallowance is not tenable and management therefore is confident of a favorable outcome in appeal proceedings and hence no provision for such income tax demand is considered necessary. Currently, the matter is at the hearing stage.

In December 2007, the Company received another demand, of Rs. 261,703 inclusive of interest for the assessment year (AY) 2002-03. The new demand concerns the same issue of disallowance of tax benefits under Section 10A. In the opinion of management, and based on advice received, the demand is not tenable against the Company. The Company, in consultation with its tax advisor, filed an appeal in January 2008 challenging the disallowance.

Certain other income tax related legal proceedings are pending against the company. Potential liabilities, if any, have been adequately provided for, and the Company does not currently estimate any incremental liability in respect of these proceedings. Additionally, the Company is also involved in lawsuits and claims which arise in the ordinary course of business. There are no such matters pending that the Company expects to be material in relation to its business.

24 Employee stock compensation plans

On 30 June 2003, Patni established the Patni ESOP 2003 plan (the plan). Under the plan, the Company is authorized to issue up to 11,142,085 equity shares to eligible employees. Employees covered by the Plan are granted an option to purchase shares of the Company subject to the requirements of vesting. The options vest in a graded manner over four years with 25% of the options vesting at the end of each year. The options can be exercised within five years from the date of vesting. A compensation committee constituted by the Board of directors of the Company administers the plan. The plan has been amended to enable the Company to issue upto 2,000,000 ADR linked options (wherein one ADR linked option is equal to two equity shares) to the employees of the Company as well as its subsidiaries and hence Patni ESOP 2003 -

The Finance Act, 2007 has introduced Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT) on employee stock options. The difference between the fair value of the underlying share on the date of vesting and the exercise price paid by the employee is subject to FBT. The Company recovers such tax from the employees. The Company's obligation to pay FBT arises only upon the exercise of stock options, hence the FBT liability and the related recovery has been recorded at the time of the exercise of options. There is no impact on the Profit and loss account.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of the Consolidated Financials under Indian GAAP

Industry Structure and developments

Global IT Industry Overview

Enterprise adaption of technology applications continues to grow with an increasing emphasis on standardization, process efficiency and automation. Today, the electronic medium has become indispensable to most forms of business communication and for integrating the expanding global supply chain.

The year 2007 was a test of pliability of the Indian IT industry. The sector successfully countered the fresh wave of a slowing economy and financial crisis in the US and steep appreciation of the INR against the US$ in addition to the supply side constraints and maintained its double digit revenue growth.

The strength in the overall performance of the IT industry, despite concerns of a cutback in technology budgets in the US, was also supported by gradual shifts in regional spending patterns. While growth in US technology spends in 2007 was similar to that observed in 2006, the relatively faster growth in EMEA and Asia-Pacific ensured a healthy growth of the worldwide aggregate, despite the decline in the share of the Americas.

The global outsourcing market continued to become more board based in 2007. India continues to remain the nerve-centre for major global sourcing strategy, exhibiting sustained global growth for indigenous players.

IT spending experiences gradual geographical shift

Apart from the core drivers, there are number of environmental factors, namely, economic growth, technology related spending, propensity to outsource IT & business processes that influence impetus of global sourcing. Global IT spending on technology goods, services, and staff will be US$ 2.4 trillion in 2008, up 8% from US$ 2.2 trillion in 2007. The growth rates for regional IT spending, the US and Western Europe clearly are on a low-growth track, with annual growth rates for 2007 to 2008 in the 4% to 6% range. In contrast, Eastern Europe, the Middle East, and Africa as well as the Asia Pacific markets are on a high-growth track, with annual growth rates above 12% in 2007 and 2008. Latin America and Canada are in between, with moderate growth of 6% to 8% in 2006, 2007, and 2008. (Source: February 11, 2008 Global IT 2008 Market Outlook by Andrew Bartel for Vendor Strategy Professionals). Though the short term US outlook seems muted, global technology spending forecasts remain relatively on track, as supported by momentum in EMEA and APAC regions.

IT outsourcing as a means to optimize costs

The global sourcing industry is fundamentally driven by three factors, namely, access to newer talent pools, reduction in costs and business improvements. The future outlook on these factors favour strong growth for global sourcing. Cost pressures are likely to continue unabated on businesses as customers continue to demand more for less in an ever increasing competitive environment. Developed countries like US, UK, France, Japan would be facing skill workforce shortage, in contrast the developing nations like India, Philippines, Brazil and Mexico would have a surplus in the same period. This imbalance in the available pool of talent is likely to continue driving the global outsourcing demand. Buyers utilize the global sourcing effectively to achieve other business improvements such as improved quality, productivity, customer satisfaction and revenue realization. Global sourcing has become an effective tool for global companies to expand their businesses with optimized cost.

With significant potential still untapped, it is expected that the global sourcing phenomenon will continue to expand in scope, scale and geographic coverage. As global delivery matures, multi-location strategies will become the norm and most sourcing destinations, including emerging locations, will grow in size. Building on its existing strengths, India will remain the leading destination and will continue to play an important role in most global sourcing strategies. As per NASSCOM Strategic Review 2008; the Indian technology and related services sector is expected to reach US$ 64 billion in FY 2008.

Indian IT Industry Outlook

Strong fundamentals of a large talent pool, sustained cost competitiveness and an enabling business environment have helped established India as the preferred sourcing destination. Superior delivery model has ensured India remains the distinct leader in the global sourcing arena.

The industry's vertical market exposure is well diversified across several mature and emerging sectors. Banking, Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI) remains the largest vertical market for Indian IT exports followed by High Technology and Telecom. These sectors together account for nearly 60% of the Indian IT-BPO exports in FY 2007. Manufacturing and Retail sectors contributing to 23% to the aggregate. Other key segments include Media, Healthcare, Airlines, Transportation and Utilities.

Technology adoption in the domestic market also reported steady gains in 2007. This segment is expected to cross US$ 23 billion in FY 2008, reporting healthy growth across all key segments. Domestic IT services spends are estimated to be growing at about 43% in FY 2008. Software and services and BPO spending growth in the domestic market is being supported by increasing adoption, and is expected to grow by over 42% and 45%, respectively.

(Source: NASSCOM Strategic Review 2008)

There are several key factors favoring the growth of Indian IT industry:

- Importance on delivery quality and security: The Indian IT sector has built a fine reputation for its high standards of service quality and information security- which has been acknowledged globally. The development centers at several of the Indian IT services providers have been assessed at SEI-CMM Level 5;
- Sustained cost competitiveness: India continues to deliver a significant cost advantage, driven by a wide differential in wages and other lower factor costs, and enhanced through productivity gains.

Growing Talent Pool: India's young demographic profile complemented by a vast and growing academic system continues to add to its pool of educated talent. There is no other country that offers a similar mix and scale of human resources.

Opportunities and Threats

Our Delivery Model

We address our clients' needs with our global delivery model, through which we allocate resources in a cost-efficient manner using a combination of onsite client locations in North America, Europe and Asia and offshore locations in India. We believe an integral part of our delivery is our industry knowledge, which we refer to as our domain expertise.

We refer to our own industry experts, business analysts and solutions architects who are located primarily onsite with the client as our domain wedge. These experts are supported by additional personnel who provide technical services onsite on a temporary basis and by our trained professionals located normally at one or more of our eight offshore centers in India. Typically, at the initial stage of a project, we provide services through our onsite industry and technology experts and our transient onsite delivery personnel. By applying our domain wedge approach, we deliver solutions that can be structured to scale to suit our clients' needs. In certain cases we provide dedicated offshore development centers, set up for a particular client. Through these offshore development centers we integrate our clients' processes and methodologies and believe we are better positioned to provide comprehensive and long-term support. We maximize the cost efficiency of our service offerings by increasing the offshore portion of the work as the client relationship matures. To complement our domain wedge, we have aligned a majority of our sales and marketing teams to focus on specific industry sectors.

Our Competitive Strengths

We believe our competitive strengths enable us to deliver high-quality, efficient and scalable services. These strengths include:

Focused Industry Expertise

We concentrate on industries where we believe we can generate sustained revenue growth, such as insurance, manufacturing, financial services and communication, media and entertainment. Through our extensive experience in these industries, we provide solutions that respond to technological challenges faced by our clients. For example, to enhance our domain expertise in life sciences, we acquired Taratec during the year.

We also focus on technology practices, specifically in product engineering services.

Successful Client Relationships

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

We have demonstrated the ability to build and manage large client relationships. Our long-term relationships typically develop from performing discrete projects to providing multiple service offerings spread across the client's businesses. Through our flexible approach, we believe we offer services that respond to our clients' needs irrespective of their size. By leveraging our industry experience with our project management capabilities and breadth of technical expertise, we solidify and expand our client relationships.

Extensive Suite of IT Services

We provide a comprehensive range of IT services, including application development, application maintenance and support, packaged software implementation, infrastructure management services, product engineering, business process outsourcing and quality assurance services. Our knowledge and experience span multiple computing platforms and technologies, which enable us to address a range of business needs and to function as a virtual extension of our clients' IT departments. We offer a broad spectrum of services in select industry sectors, which we leverage to capitalize on opportunities throughout our clients' organizations.

Delivery and Operational Excellence

Through our mature global delivery model, we deliver high quality and cost-effective IT services from multiple locations in a reduced timeframe. We vary the composition of our employee resource pool, in terms of seniority and location, to maximize our productivity and efficiency. Our processes and methodologies have achieved Capability Maturity Model Integrated (CMMi) Level 5, the highest attainable certification. We use project management tools to deliver services to client specifications in a timely and reliable manner while maintaining a high level of client satisfaction.

Highly skilled Professionals

We have a highly qualified management team with a broad range of experience in the IT industry. Our Chief Executive Officer is an entrepreneur and engineer who has been in the IT industry for over 30 years and has led us from our inception in 1978. Most of our senior management team has worked as a team for over twenty years. We use our competitive recruitment program to select the best talent from India's premier engineering institutions.

Our Strategy

We seek to further enhance our position as a leading Indian provider of integrated IT services and solutions through our global delivery model. To achieve this we intend to:

Penetrate and Grow Strategic Client Accounts

We have achieved strong revenue growth by focusing on select, long term customer relationships which we call strategic accounts. We aim to expand the scope of our client relationships by leveraging our focused industry sector expertise with delivery excellence, responsive engagement models and breadth of services. We intend to focus on adding new strategic clients and further penetrating our existing customer relationships. We address the needs of our larger strategic relationships through dedicated account managers who have responsibility for increasing the size and scope of our service offerings to such clients. We aim to strengthen our sales and marketing teams, a majority of whom are aligned to focus on specific industries.

Strengthen and Broaden our Industry Expertise

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

We intend to strengthen our understanding of key industries by investing in a strong base of industry experts, business analysts and solutions architects as well as considering select, targeted acquisitions. We believe that we can add more value than a general service provider because we understand the specific industry requirements of our clients.

Strengthen and Broaden our Service Lines

We aim to deepen our existing client relationships through new and more comprehensive service lines. In recent years we have added new capabilities in line with our growth and customer needs. We continually explore new initiatives through our internal centers of excellence, which focus on innovation in specific technology platforms or services. For example, we added quality assurance services as a new service line, and developed increased capabilities such as business intelligence, database administration and legacy system modernization in other service lines.

Optimize and Expand Delivery Capability

We are committed to enhancing our processes and methodologies by investing in project management tools that improve our efficiency. We aim to develop new productivity tools, refine our software engineering techniques and maximize reuse of our processes. For example, we use automation testing to increase the efficiency of our project methodologies and for process management, defect tracking, audit management and contract management. We also apply this commitment to our infrastructure and we are constructing new knowledge park campuses in India to provide world class infrastructure, high standards of quality and secure delivery.

Build our Brand Globally

While our Patni brand is an established and recognized brand in India, we intend to increase recognition of our brand elsewhere in our client markets. We seek to achieve this through targeted analyst outreach programs, trade shows, white papers, sponsorships, workshops, road shows, speaking engagements and global public relations management. We believe that a stronger brand will facilitate our ability to gain new clients and to attract and retain talented professionals.

Pursue Strategic Acquisitions

We seek to pursue selective strategic acquisitions to augment our capabilities and to address gaps in industry expertise, technical expertise, service lines and geographic coverage. We will continue to consider and seek acquisition opportunities such as Logan Orvis and Taratec, which considerably increased our wingspan in the communication, media and entertainment and life sciences subvertical under Manufacturing sector respectively. Logan Orvis has enhanced our strategic consulting domain and Life Science has given us opportunity into Pharmaceutical sector.

Competition

We operate in a highly competitive environment and this competitive pressure on our business is likely to continue. The market for IT services is rapidly evolving and highly competitive. We expect that competition will continue to intensify. We face competition or competitive pressure from:

- Indian IT services companies, such as HCL Technologies Limited, Infosys Technologies Limited, Satyam Computer Services Limited, Tata Consultancy Services Limited and Wipro Limited;
- international IT services companies, such as Accenture, Cognizant Technology Solutions, Computer Sciences Corporation, Sapient

Corporation and Electronic Data Systems;

- divisions of large multinational technology firms such as IBM, and Hewlett Packard Company, or Hewlett Packard;
- in-house IT departments of large corporations;
- other international, national, regional and local firms from a variety of market segments, including major international accounting firms, systems consulting and implementation firms, applications software firms, service groups of computer equipment companies, general management consulting firms, programming companies and temporary staffing firms;
- offshore service providers in other countries with low wage costs such as China and the Philippines, and countries in Eastern Europe; and
- involvement of third party intermediaries who negotiate IT services and outsourcing contracts on behalf of their clients.

A number of our international competitors are setting up operations in India. Further, a number of our international competitors with existing operations in India are ramping up their presence in India as offshore operations in India have become an important element of their delivery strategy. This has resulted in increased employee attrition among Indian vendors and increased wage pressure to retain software professionals and reduce such attrition.

Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and marketing resources and generate greater revenues than we do. Clients may prefer vendors that have delivery centers located globally or are based in countries that are more cost-competitive than India. Therefore, we cannot assure you that we will be able to retain our clients while competing against such competitors. We believe that our ability to compete also depends in part on a number of factors beyond our control, including the ability of our competitors to attract, train, motivate and retain highly skilled technical employees, the price at which our competitors offer comparable services and the extent of our competitors responsiveness to client needs.

Segment-wise Performance

Our operations pertain to provision of IT services and solutions to customers belonging to various industries such as insurance, manufacturing and financial services and also to technology practices. Accordingly, revenues represented along industry classes comprise the principal basis of segmental information.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

We derive a significant proportion of our revenues from clients in the insurance, manufacturing, communication, media and entertainment and financial services industries. We also provide services to clients in other industries, including retail, energy and utilities, logistics and transportation, and media and entertainment. In addition, we market our services to clients through our technology practices, comprising our product engineering and ISV practices.

The following table indicates the breakdown of our revenues by our industry and technology practices:

Outlook, Risks and Concerns

These have been discussed in detail in the Risk management section in this Annual Report.

Internal Control Systems

We maintain internal control systems designed to provide reasonable assurance that assets are safeguarded, transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and properly recorded, and accounting records are adequate for preparation of financial statements and other financial information. The internal audit function performs internal audit periodically to ascertain their adequacy and effectiveness.

The Audit Committee which is a sub-committee to Board of Directors consists solely of independent directors. The Audit Committee monitors and provides effective supervision of our financial reporting process with a view towards ensuring accurate, timely and proper disclosures coupled with transparency, integrity and quality of financial reporting. Our Audit Committee oversees the work carried out in the financial reporting process by our management, including the internal auditors and reviews the processes and safeguards employed by each. In addition our Audit Committee has the responsibility of oversight and supervision over our system of internal controls over financial reporting, audit process, and process for monitoring the compliance with related laws and regulations. The committee also holds discussions with Statutory Auditors, Internal Auditors and the Management on matters pertaining to internal controls, auditing and financial reporting. The Committee reviews with the statutory auditors the scope and results of the audit.

In particular, our efforts to comply with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and the related regulations regarding our required assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting and our external auditors' audit of that assessment requires the commitment of significant financial and managerial resources. We consistently assess the adequacy of our internal controls over financial reporting, remediate any control deficiencies that may be identified, and validate through testing that our controls are functioning as documented.

1 Income taxes

This represents deferred tax impact of significant differences between Indian GAAP and US GAAP.

2 Foreign currency differences

Under Indian GAAP, net exchange difference resulting from translation of financial statements of foreign subsidiaries is recognised in the consolidated income statement. Under US GAAP, this exchange difference is reported in the statement of shareholders' equity and other comprehensive income. Additionally, the Company had booked forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge its export proceeds. Under Indian GAAP, premium on forward contract is recognized as income or expenditure over the life of the related contract. Whereas, under US GAAP, the same is marked-to-market as on the reporting date and depending on the designation of the forward contract, the resultant gain/loss is recognized in the income statement or in the statement of shareholders' equity and other comprehensive income, as the case may be. Also, in Indian GAAP, losses on cancellation of forward contracts designated against future sales are booked to Profit and Loss Account. In US GAAP, the same is reported in the statement of shareholders' equity and other comprehensive income.

These foreign currency differences are reported above, as a reconciling item.

3 Employee retirement benefits

This represents difference in recording pension, gratuity, and leave encashment costs.

4 ESOP related Compensation Cost

Under US GAAP, compensation cost is recognised for sharebased payments using a fair value measurement method where the estimated fair value of awards is charged to income on an accelerated basis over the requisite service period, which is generally the vesting period. Accordingly, compensation cost has been recorded under US GAAP while no such accounting is required under Indian GAAP.

5 Business acquisition

Under US GAAP, the assets and liabilities acquired on acquisition of The Reference Inc. and Patni Telecom Solutions Inc. (formerly Cymbal Corporation) have been recorded at fair values assigned to them, whereas under Indian GAAP these have been recorded at respective book values. Further, under US GAAP, a portion of the purchase consideration has been allocated to intangible assets meeting the criteria for being recognized as an asset apart from goodwill. These intangible assets are being amortised over its useful life in proportion to the economic benefits consumed during each reporting period. Under Indian GAAP, the entire difference between the purchase consideration and the book value of assets acquired has been recorded as goodwill, which is subject to impairment testing.

6 Prior period adjustments

In connection with the IRS examination of the fiscal years 2001 and 2002 which has been finalized, the Company assessed that it had not recognized income taxes, interest and related expenses attributable to the Company's returns with respect to the filing of its US tax returns for 2001 and 2002 for which the Company was unable to substantiate to the IRS that such returns were filed within 18 months from the respective due dates. In accordance with the regulations of the IRS, this results in a disallowance of expenses claimed in the tax filings for the related periods, and other statutory interests and related expenses. Accordingly, under Indian GAAP, the Company has disclosed the amounts as prior period items relating to this reassessment. In US GAAP, in case of these prior period items, the Company has restated its financial statements for the respective years.

2 Significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

These consolidated financial statements of the group have been prepared in accordance with Indian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) under the historical cost convention with the exception of land and buildings of Patni, which have been revalued, on the accrual basis of accounting. GAAP comprises mandatory accounting standards as specified in the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 and the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956.

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires that management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities as of the date of consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

2.2 Basis of consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of Patni Computer Systems Limited and its subsidiaries. The subsidiaries considered in the consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2007 are summarized below:

Name of the subsidiary	Country of incorporation	% shareholding
Patni Americas Inc. (formerly Patni Computer Systems Inc.)	USA	100
Patni Computer Systems (UK) Limited	UK	100
Patni Computer Systems GmbH	Germany	100
Patni Telecom Solutions Inc.	USA	100
Patni Telecom Solutions Private Ltd.	India	100
Patni Telecom Solutions (UK) Ltd.	UK	100
Patni Life Sciences Inc.	USA	100
Patni Computer Systems Brasil Ltda	Brazil	100

These consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with the principles and procedures prescribed by Accounting Standard 21- Consolidated Financial Statements (AS-21) issued by the ICAI for the purpose of preparation and presentation of consolidated financial statements.

The financial statements of the Parent Company and its subsidiaries have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses after eliminating intra-group balances/transactions and resulting unrealized profits in full. Unrealized losses resulting from intra-group transactions have also been eliminated unless cost cannot be recovered in full. The amounts shown in respect of accumulated reserves comprises the amount of the relevant reserves as per the balance sheet of the Parent Company and its share in the post acquisition increase/decrease in the relevant reserves/accumulated deficit of its subsidiaries.

Consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies across the Group.

2.3 Fixed assets and depreciation

Fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, except for items of land and buildings of Patni, which were revalued in March 1995. Cost includes inward freight, duties, taxes and incidental expenses related to acquisition and installation of the asset. Depreciation is provided on the Straight Line Method (SLM) based on the estimated useful lives of the assets as determined by the management. For additions and disposals, depreciation is provided pro-rata for the period of use.

PATNI COMPUTER SYSTEMS LIMITED AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES

(Currency: in thousands of Indian Rupees except share data)

The rates of depreciation based on the estimated useful lives of fixed assets are higher than those prescribed under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956. The useful lives of fixed assets are stated below:

Asset	Useful life (in years)
Leasehold land and improvements	Over the lease period or the useful life of the assets, which ever is shorter
Buildings	40
Electrical installations	8
Computers, computer software and other service equipments	3
Furniture and fixtures	3-8
Office equipments	5
Vehicles	4-5

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets acquired either through business acquisition or individually are amortized over their respective individual estimated useful lives in proportion to the economic benefits consumed in each period. Intangible assets comprise customer and technology related intangibles and are being amortized over a period of 5-10 years. The estimated useful life of an identifiable intangible asset is based on a number of factors including the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors (such as the stability of the industry, and known technological advances) and the level of maintenance expenditures required to obtain the expected future cash flows from the asset.

2.4 Impairment of assets

The Group assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit which the asset belongs to, is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognized in the profit and loss account. If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of depreciable historical cost.

2.5 Goodwill

The excess of cost to the Holding Company of its investment in subsidiaries over the Holding Company's portion of equity in the subsidiaries, at the respective dates on which investments in subsidiaries were made, is recognised in the consolidated financial statements as goodwill. The Holding Company's portion of equity in the subsidiaries is determined on the basis of the book value of assets and liabilities as per the financial statements of the subsidiaries as on the date of investment.

The goodwill recorded in these consolidated financial statements has not been amortised, but instead evaluated for impairment. The Group evaluates the carrying amount of its goodwill whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may be impaired.

2.6 Leases

In accordance with Accounting Standard 19 Accounting for leases, assets acquired on finance leases, have been recognised as an asset and a liability at the inception of the lease, at an amount equal to the lower of the fair value of the leased asset or the present value of the future minimum lease payments. Such leased assets are depreciated over the lease term or its estimated useful life, whichever is shorter. Further, the payment of minimum lease payments have been apportioned between finance charges, which are debited to the profit and loss account, and reduction in lease obligations recorded at the inception of the lease.

Lease arrangements, where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vests with the lessor, are recognised as operating leases. Lease payments under operating lease are recognised as an expense in the profit and loss account.

2.7 Revenue and cost recognition

The Group derives its revenues primarily from software development activities. Revenue from time-and-material contracts is recognised as related services are rendered. Revenue from fixed-price contracts is recognised on a percentage of completion basis, measured by the percentage of costs incurred to-date to estimated total costs for each contract. This method is used because management considers costs to be the best available measure of progress on these contracts.

Contract costs include all direct costs such as direct labour and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as depreciation and satellite link costs. Selling, general, and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, estimated profitability and final contract settlements may result in revision to costs and income and are recognised in the period in which the revisions are determined.

The asset, Cost and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts, represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. These amounts are billed after the milestones specified in the agreement are achieved and the customer acceptance for the same is received. The liability, Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts , represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognised on a straight-line basis over the period of the contract. Direct and incremental contract origination and set up costs incurred in connection with support/maintenance service arrangements are charged to expense as incurred. These costs are deferred only in situations where there is a contractual arrangement establishing a customer relationship for a specified period. The costs to be deferred are limited to the extent of future contractual revenues. Further, revenue attributable to set up activities is deferred and recognised systematically over the periods that the related fees are earned, as services performed during such period do not result in the culmination of a separate earnings process.

The Group grants volume discounts to customers in the form of free services in future. The Group accounts for such volume discounts by allocating a portion of the revenue on the related transactions to the service that will be delivered in future. Further, other volume discounts and rebates are also deducted from revenue.

Revenues from BPO Services are derived from both time based and transaction priced contracts. Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed, in accordance with the specific terms of the contracts with the customer.

Dividend income is recognised when the Group s right to receive dividend is established. Interest income is recognised on the time proportion basis.

2.8 Employee retirement and other benefits

Provident fund

In accordance with Indian regulations, all employees of Patni receive benefits from a provident fund, which is a defined contribution retirement plan. Contributions to the provident fund are charged to the consolidated profit and loss account in the period in which the contributions are incurred.

Gratuity

Patni provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan (the Gratuity) covering eligible employees. In accordance with the payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 the Gratuity plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employee, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment. Liabilities with regard to the Gratuity Plan are determined by actuarial valuation as of the balance sheet date, based upon which, the Company contributes all the ascertained liabilities to the Patni Computer Systems Employees Gratuity Fund Trust (the Trust). Trustees administer contributions made to the Trust and contributions are invested in specific investments as permitted by law.

Pension

Certain directors of the Group are entitled to receive pension benefit upon retirement or on termination from employment @ 50% of their last drawn monthly salary. The pension is payable from the time the eligible director reaches the age of sixty-five and is payable to the director or the surviving spouse. The liability for pension is actuarially determined by an independent actuary at the end of each financial year and recognised by Patni in the consolidated financial statements. The plan is not funded.

Others

Patni USA adopted a 401(k) salary deferral profit sharing plan, which enables employees to make pre-tax contributions. Patni USA does not match employee contributions to the plan.

Patni provides compensatory-offs to its employees, which entitle the employees to avail paid leave in future periods for services already rendered. These entitlements are not encashable by the employees. Patni makes provision for such compensated absences by estimating the likely salary payable to the employees availing such leave based on historical data of such entitlements availed in the past.

2.9 Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currency are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rate. Exchange rate differences resulting from foreign exchange transactions settled during the year, including year-end translation of monetary assets and monetary liabilities are recognised in the consolidated profit and loss account.

In respect of forward exchange contracts which hedge the foreign currency risk of the underlying outstanding at the year-end or which hedge a firm commitment or highly probable forecasted transactions, the Company values these contracts based on the spot rate at the period end and the resultant gain or loss is included in the profit and loss account. The premium or discount on all forward exchange contracts arising at the inception of each contract is amortised as income or expense over the life of the contract.

The Company has also entered into foreign currency option contracts in the nature of purchase options and combination options (these options) with maturity on dates which range upto twenty nine months. These net written options are revalued at fair values at reporting period end, with any profit or loss arising on the revaluation being recognised in the profit and loss account. The premium paid on purchase options is marked to market (MTM) and the resultant gain/losses are recognised in profit and loss account.

2.10 Foreign currency translation

The consolidated financial statements are reported in Indian rupees. The transaction of the local currency of each of the integral foreign branches within the group into Indian rupees is performed in respect of assets and liabilities other than fixed assets using the exchange rate in effect at the year end and revenue and expense items other than depreciation cost using prevailing exchange rate at the date of transactions. Fixed assets are translated at exchange rates on the date of transactions and depreciation on fixed assets is translated at the exchange rates used for translation of the underlying fixed assets. Net exchange difference resulting from the translation of financial statements of foreign branches are recognised in the consolidated profit and loss account.

(Currency: in thousands of Indian Rupees except share data)

Pursuant to para 24 of AS-11 (revised 2003), the financial statements of the foreign subsidiaries, being non-integral operations, are translated into Indian rupees as follows:

- a) Income and expense items are translated by using an appropriate monthly weighted average exchange rate for the periods.
- b) Assets and liabilities, both monetary and non-monetary, are translated at the closing rate.
- c) All resulting exchange differences are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve which is included under Reserves and Surplus.

2.11 Investments

Long-term investments are stated at cost, and provision for diminution is made when, in the management's opinion, there is a decline, other than temporary, in the carrying value of such investments. Current investments are carried at lower of cost and fair value.

2.12 Taxation

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense, deferred tax expense or credit and fringe benefit tax is computed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Provision for current taxes is recognised under the taxes payable method based on the estimated tax liability computed after taking credit for allowances and exemptions in accordance with the local tax laws existing in the respective countries. In case of matters under appeal, full provision is made in the financial statements when the Company accepts the liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to timing differences that result between the profits offered for income taxes and the profits as per the financial statements of the Company. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and the tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in the period that includes the enactment rate. Deferred tax assets in respect of carry forward losses are recognized only to the extent that there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realised. Other deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably / virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realised.

The deferred tax assets/liabilities and tax expenses are determined separately for parent and each subsidiaries and then aggregated.

Substantial portion of the profits of Patni are exempted from income tax, being profits from undertakings situated at Software Technology Parks. Under the tax holiday, Patni can utilise exemption of profits from income taxes for a period of ten consecutive years. Patni has opted for this exemption for its undertakings situated in Software Technology Parks and these exemptions expire on various dates between years 2005 and 2009. In this regard, Patni recognizes deferred taxes in respect of those originating timing differences, which reverse after the tax holiday period resulting in tax consequences. Timing differences, which originate and reverse within the tax holiday period do not result in tax consequence and therefore no deferred taxes are recognised in respect of the same. For the above purposes, the timing differences, which originate first, are considered to reverse first.

2.13 Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity shareholders for the period by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable, had the shares been actually issued at fair value. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless they have been issued at a later date. The number of shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for stock splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.14 Provisions and contingent liabilities

The Group creates a provision when there is present obligation as a result of a past event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements. However, contingent assets are assessed continually and if it is virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits will arise, the asset and related income are recognized in the period in which the change occurs.

retail, logistics and transportation.

The Group evaluates segment performance and allocates resources based on revenue growth. Revenue in relation to segments is categorized based on items that are individually identifiable to that segment. Costs are not specifically allocable to individual segments as the underlying resources and services are used interchangeably. Fixed assets used in Group's business or liabilities contracted have not been identified to any of the reportable segments, as the fixed assets and services are used interchangeably between segments. Until 31 December 2006, the Group reported Product Engineering Services (PES) and Independent Software Vendors (ISV) as separate industry segments. The PES business is primarily related to embedded technology services for products and the ISV unit provided the user interface for these products. Both these segments form part of technology services. Effective 1 January 2007, the group has integrated these two business segments with the primary focus on the following synergies (i) demand for providing end-to-end solutions from product engineering clients. (ii) leveraging the domain skills and platform skills to provide end-to-end solutions. Segment data for previous period have been reclassified to conform to current period presentation.

The Group's geographic segmentation is based on location of the customers and comprises United States of America, Europe, Japan, India and Others, which include Rest of Asia Pacific and Rest of the World. Revenue in relation to geographic segments is categorized based on the location of the specific customer entity for which services are performed irrespective of the customer entity that is billed for the services and includes both onsite and offshore services. Categorization of customer related assets and liabilities in relation to geographical segments is based on the location of the specific customer entity which is billed for the services. Substantial portion of the group's long lived assets are located in India.

Based on the economic characteristics of the telecommunication business segment the Group has renamed the segment as communications, media and entertainment.

The accounting policies consistently used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are also consistently applied to individual segment information. There are no inter-segment sales.

Most of the lease agreements provide for cancellation by either party with a notice period ranging from 30 days to 120 days and also contain a clause for renewal of the lease agreement at the option of the Company. Additionally, the Company has taken certain office premises under non-cancelable operating lease arrangements, which are renewable at the option of the Company.

Patni USA has operating lease agreements, primarily for leasing office space, that expire over the next 1-5 years. These leases generally require Patni USA to pay certain executory costs such as taxes, maintenance and insurance.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

Patni Telecom and its subsidiaries have operating leases for office space, that expire over the next 1-4 years. These agreements provide for cancellation by either party with a notice period ranging from 30 days to 120 days, after the initial lock-in period, if any.

Rent expense for all operating leases for the year ended 31 December 2007 aggregated Rs. 590,102 (2006: Rs. 583,387).

In December 2006, the Company received a demand from the Indian Income tax department of approximately Rs. 630,166 including interest demand of approximately Rs. 186,850 for the Assessment Year 2004-05. The tax demand is mainly on account of disallowance of deduction claimed by the Company under Section 10A of the Income Tax Act, 1961, in respect of profits earned by its various eligible undertakings. Section 10A of Indian Income Tax Act exempts the profits earned by an undertaking for the export of computer software upon fulfilment of certain conditions. One of the condition is that the unit should not have been formed by the splitting of an existing business. The Company had only expanded its software development business whereas the Income Tax department contends that the business of the new units is comprised of business transferred from existing units by splitting them. The Company, in consultation with its tax advisor, filed an appeal in January 2007 challenging the disallowance.

24 Contingent liabilities and capital commitments (Contd.)

One of the requirements under the Indian Income Tax Rules to proceed with an appeal is to deposit, either immediately or through monthly installments, a sum equivalent to 50% of the amount that is under appeal. Until 31 December 2007, the Company has deposited a sum of Rs. 269,167. Considering the facts and nature of disallowances and based on the advice given by the Company's legal counsel, management believes that the disallowance is not tenable and management therefore is confident of a favorable outcome in appeal proceedings and hence no provision for such income tax demand is considered necessary. Currently, the matter is at the hearing stage.

In December 2007, the Company received another demand, of Rs. 261,703 inclusive an interest demand of approximately Rs. 139,877 for the assessment year 2002-03. The new demand concerns the same issue of disallowance of tax benefits under Section 10A. In the opinion of management, and based on advice received, the demand is not tenable against the Company and the company has already filed an appeal with the appellate authority.

Certain other income tax related legal proceedings are pending against the company. Potential liabilities, if any, have been adequately provided for, and the Company does not currently estimate any incremental liability in respect of these proceedings. Additionally, the Company is also involved in lawsuits and claims which arise in the ordinary course of business. There are no such matters pending that the Company expects to be material in relation to its business.

25 Employee stock compensation plans

On 30 June 2003, Patni established the Patni ESOP 2003 plan (the plan). Under the plan, the Company is authorized to issue up to 11,142,085 equity shares to eligible employees. Employees covered by the Plan are granted an option to purchase shares of the Company subject to the requirements of vesting. The options vest in a graded manner over four years with 25% of the options vesting at the end of each year. The options can be exercised within five years from the date of vesting. A compensation committee constituted by the Board of directors of the Company administers the plan. The plan has been amended to enable the Company to issue upto 2,000,000 ADR linked options (wherein one ADR linked option is equal to two equity shares) to the employees of the Company as well as its subsidiaries and hence Patni ESOP 2003 - Revised 2006 has come into force with effect from 21 June 2006.

The Company issued 200,000 Performance Linked options in May 2006 to certain Senior Management Personnel under the Patni ESOP 2003-Revised 2006 Plan wherein vesting of options is dependant on achieving certain set targets. Vesting is triggered on achievement of the targets, but no lesser than 12 months after grant of options. Based on set targets, as at 31 December 2007, 70,000 options vested. Compensation cost is recognised on a cumulative catch up basis based on the assessment of probability of performance criteria being achieved.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

The exercise price of the grant approximated the fair value of the underlying equity shares at the date of the grant.

The Finance Act, 2007 has introduced Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT) on employee stock options. The difference between the fair value of the underlying share on the date of vesting and the exercise price paid by the employee is subject to FBT. The Company recovers such tax from the employees. The Company's obligation to pay FBT arises only upon the exercise of stock options, hence the FBT liability and the related recovery has been recorded at the time of the exercise of options. There is no impact on the Profit and loss account.

Our revenues grew from US$ 188.3 million in 2002 to US$ 662.91 million in 2007, representing a compound annual growth rate of 28.6%. Our net income grew from US$ 31.5 million in 2002 to US$ 113.98 million in 2007, representing a compound annual growth rate of 29.3%. Our total number of employees was 12,804 as of 31 December 2006 and 14,945 as of 31 December 2007. In light of this growth, we are investing in new high-tech facilities, which we refer to as knowledge parks, designed for expanding our operations and training our employees. As of 31 December 2007, we had 223 sales and marketing personnel supported by dedicated industry specialists in 22 sales offices around the globe, including North America, Europe, Japan and the rest of the Asia-Pacific region.

We manage and market our business according to our industry and technology practices. Our industry practices consist of insurance, manufacturing, financial services and communication, media and entertainment and a group of other industries (including retail, energy and utilities, logistics and transportation, and media and entertainment).

We have also developed technology practices that offer research, design and development services for product engineering and to independent software vendors, or ISVs. Our service lines support both our industry and technology practices. We do not, however, treat our service lines as separate components of our business for financial reporting purposes.

Revenues

Our revenues were US$ 662.9 million in 2007, representing an increase of 14.5% from revenues of US$ 578.9 million in 2006. Revenues from existing customers contributed US$ 612.6 million and new customers contributed US$ 50.3 million to our revenues. This represented an increase of 15.6% in revenues from existing customers and increase of 2.6% in revenues from new customers compared to 2006. Growth in revenues from our existing operations was attributable to an increase of 18.1% in the total billed person-months from work performed at both our offshore and onsite locations. Onsite work measured in billed-person months increased 7.7% in 2007 compared to 2006, while offshore work increased 23.3% over the same period. We increased our client relationships to 318 as of 31 December 2007 from 239 as of 31 December 2006. In addition, the total number of clients that individually accounted for over

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

US$ 1.0 million in annual revenues increased to 84 as of 31 December 2007 from 74 as of 31 December 2006.

During 2007, our revenues from T&M projects increased by 19.6% over revenues in 2006, while revenues from fixed price contracts increased by 5.2% over the same period. T&M projects accounted for 67.6% of our revenues in 2007, compared to 64.8% in 2006 mainly because 65.4% of our new business was billed on a T&M basis.

Our client concentration, as measured by the proportion of revenue generated from our top ten clients, decreased to 47.3% in 2007 from 53.1% in 2006. General Electric, our largest client, contributed 11.8% of our revenues in 2007, compared to 14.6% in 2006.

During 2007, clients in the insurance, manufacturing, product engineering services and financial services industries continued to contribute a large proportion of our revenues. Revenues from clients in these industries in 2007 increased by 16.4%, 25.5%, 34.7% and 6.1% compared to 2006 and contributed 23.6%, 23.7%, 16.8% and 14.1% to overall revenues, respectively. Our other industries practice contributed 21.7% and 25.6% of our revenues in 2007 and 2006. Until 31 December 2006, we reported Product Engineering Services (PES) and Independent Software Vendors (ISV) as separate industry segments. Effective 1 January 2007, we have integrated these two business segments with the primary focus on the following synergies (i) demand for providing end-to-end solutions from product engineering clients. (ii) leveraging the domain skills and platform skills to provide end-to-end solutions.

During 2007, we continued to derive a significant proportion of our revenues from clients located in the United States. In 2007 and 2006, we derived 77.9% and 80.8% of our revenues from clients located in the United States. Revenues from these clients grew by 10.4% in 2007, while revenues from clients in other regions grew by 32% in the same period.

Cost of revenues

The cost of revenues was US$ 450 million in 2007, representing an increase of 20.3% from US$ 374 million in 2006. Cost of revenues represented 67.9% and 64.6% of our revenues in 2007 and 2006. Out of increase of US$ 76 million in cost of revenues, US$ 59 million was attributable to wage costs, US$ 7.1 million to travel costs, US$ 1.2 million to data-link charges, US$ 1.4 million in electricity cost of Airoli, US$ 1.4 million to rent charges, US$ 0.5 million on account of amortization of purchased intangible asset, and US$ 4 million to depreciation charged on assets. Wage costs increased by US$ 59 million due to an increase in headcount of software professionals, annual salary revisions and reversal of US$ 9.0 million in 2006, on account of payroll and related taxes for our international operations arising on reassessment of certain wages paid, and short- term benefits given to our employees when working outside India.

Expansion of our facilities and capitalization of units like Airoli led to increase in Depreciation cost and other related cost. Rupee appreciation also had an impact on the higher cost of revenues in 2007 as compared to 2006 with the rupee appreciating by approximately 11% as compared to year 2006.

Gross profit

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

Our gross profit for 2007 was US$ 212.8 million, representing an increase of 3.9% from US$ 204.9 million in 2006. Gross profit as a percentage of our revenues decreased to 32.1% from 35.4% during 2006 reflecting a higher increase in cost of revenues as compared to increase in revenues mainly on account of annual salary revisions and rupee appreciation.

Selling, general and administrative expenses

During 2007, our selling, general and administrative expenses were US$ 116.3 million, representing an increase of 9.2% from US$ 106.5 million in 2006. During 2007 our selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues decreased to 17.5% from 18.4% in 2006.

During 2007, our sales and marketing expenses were US$ 45.8 million, representing an increase of 7.3% from US$ 42.7 million in 2006. Personnel costs increased by US$ 2.9 million due to the additions to sales and marketing personnel and higher compensation costs resulting from salary increases. Other selling and marketing costs increased by US$ 0.2 million. We believe that our investment in selling and marketing expenses has contributed to the growth and diversification of our client revenues.

Our general and administrative expenses were US$ 70.5 million, representing an increase of 10.5% from US$ 63.8 million in 2006. Personnel costs increased by US$ 4 million due to the addition of general and administrative personnel and annual salary revisions. Directors' remuneration to by US$ 2.3 million on account of termination payments to wholetime Indian Directors, on their ceasing to be executive directors, to become founder directors. Other general and administrative charges increased by US$ 0.4 million.

Foreign exchange gain/loss

In 2007, we had a foreign exchange gain of US$ 23.4 million as against a loss of US$ 2.7 million in 2006, as our dollar-denominated receivables continued to be hedged to a significant level. Our receivables are marked to market.

Operating income

Our operating income was US$ 118.7 million in 2007, representing an increase of 25.6% from US$ 94.5 million in 2006. As a percentage of revenues, operating income increased to 17.9% from 16.3% in 2006.

Our other income (expense), net was income of US$ 17 million in 2007, increasing 36% from income of US$ 12.5 million in 2006 resulting in net increase of US$ 4.5 million. In 2007, our gain on sale of investments was US$ 6.4 million as compared to US$ 1.7 million in 2006. In 2007, our interest and dividend income were US$ 12.5 million as compared to US$ 10.1 million in 2006.

Income taxes

We made a provision of US$ 21.8 million for income taxes in 2007, representing a decrease of 54.3% from US$ 47.7 million in 2006. Our effective tax rate (excluding extraordinary item) was 16.1% in 2007 compared to 16.2% in 2006. The 2006 income taxes includes US$ 30.3 million on account of reassessment of our payroll and corporate tax obligations for our international operations.

Net income

Our net income was US$ 114 million in 2007, representing an increase of 92.2% from US$ 59.3 million in 2006. As a percentage of our revenues, net income increased to 17.2% in 2007 from 10.2% in 2006. The increase in the Net Income is mainly on account of reasons explained above.

Liquidity and capital resources

Net cash provided by operating activities was US$ 111.3 million and US$ 59.1 million in the year ended 31 December 2007 and 2006 respectively.

This variance was primarily due to increase in net income to US$ 114 million during 2007 from US$ 59.3 million in 2006. In addition, during 2007 depreciation increased to US$ 25.1 million from US$ 19.6 million in 2006. Gain from sale of investments was US$ 6.4 million and US$

1.1.4 These financial statements are prepared on a consolidated basis for all the years presented.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of preparation of financial statements

2.1.1 The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP).

Principles of consolidation

2.1.2 The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of Patni and all of its subsidiaries, which are more than 50% owned and controlled. All inter-company accounts and transactions are eliminated on consolidation.

Accounting estimates

2.1.3 The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires that management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are prudent and reasonable. The actual results could differ from these estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financials statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Revenue and cost recognition

2.1.4 The Company derives its revenues primarily from software services and to a lesser extent from BPO services. Revenue is recognized when there is persuasive evidence of a contractual arrangement with customers, delivery has occurred, the sales price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is probable. Software services are provided either on a fixed price, fixed time frame or on a time and material basis. The Company's fixed price contracts include application maintenance and support services, on which revenue is recognized ratably over the term of maintenance. Revenue with respect to other fixed price contracts is recognized on a percentage of completion basis. Revenue with respect to time-and-material contracts is recognized as related services are performed.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

Guidance has been drawn from paragraph 95 of Statement of Position (SOP) 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition to account for revenue from fixed price arrangements for software development and related services in conformity with SOP-81- 1 (Accounting for Performance of Construction - Type and Certain Production - Type Contracts). The input (cost expended) method has been used because management considers this to be the best available measure of progress on these contracts as there is a direct relationship between input and productivity. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on uncompleted contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

2.1.5 The asset, Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts , represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. These amounts are billed after the milestones specified in the agreement are achieved and the customer acceptance for the same is received. The liability, Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts , represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

2.1.6 Direct and incremental contract origination and set up costs incurred in connection with support/maintenance service arrangements are charged to expense as incurred. These costs are deferred only in situations where there is a contractual arrangement establishing a customer relationship for a specified period. The costs to be deferred are limited to the extent of future contractual revenues. Further, revenue attributable to set up activities is deferred and recognised systematically over the periods that the related fees are earned, as services performed during such period do not result in the culmination of a separate earnings process.

Costs that are incurred for a specific anticipated contract and that will result in no future benefits unless the contract is obtained, are not included in contract costs before the receipt of the contract. However, such costs are deferred, subject to the evaluation of their probable recoverability.

2.1.7 Warranty costs on sale of services are accrued based on management's estimates and historical data at the time related revenues are recorded.

2.1.8 The Company grants volume discounts to certain customers, which are computed based on a pre-determined percentage of the total revenues from those customers during a specified period, as per the terms of the contract. These discounts are earned only after the customer has provided a specified cumulative level of revenues in the specified period. The discounts can be utilized by the customer in the form of free services.

The Company estimates the total number of customers that will ultimately earn these discounts, based on which a portion of the revenue on the related transactions is allocated to the free services that will be delivered in the future.

The Company reports revenues net of discounts offered to customers. In accounting for the above volume discounts, guidance has been obtained from Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) 00-22 Accounting for Points and Certain Other Time- Based or Volume-Based Sales Incentive Offers, and Offers for Free Products or Services to Be Delivered in the Future and EITF 01-09, Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer (Including a Reseller of the Vendor's Products) . Accordingly, these volume discounts have been recorded based on estimate of the total number of customers that will ultimately earn these discounts as it is believed that, based on historical experience, reliable estimates can be made of the estimated amount of revenues from a particular customer in the specified period.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

Reimbursement of out of pocket expenses received from customers have been included as part of revenues in accordance with EITF 01-14 Income Statement Characterization of Reimbursements Received for Out of Pocket Expenses Incurred .

2.1.9 Revenues from BPO Services are derived from both time-based and transaction-priced contracts. Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed, in accordance with the specific terms of the contracts with the customer.

Advertising cost

2.1.10 Advertising costs incurred during the year have been expensed. The total amount of advertising costs expensed was US$ 1.5 million, US$ 1.6 million and US$ 0.9 million for the years ended 31 December 2005, 2006 and 2007.

Cash and cash equivalents

2.1.11 The Company considers investments in highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and cash on deposit with banks and money market accounts.

Investments

2.1.12 Management determines the appropriate classification of investment securities at the time of purchase and re-evaluates such designation at each balance sheet date. At 31 December 2006 and 2007, investment securities were classified as available-for-sale or held to maturity. The investment securities classified as available-for-sale consists of units of mutual funds and other securities. Other securities consists primarily of debt instruments, that carry market interest rates and are stated at cost. Held to maturity securities consist of investment in Government bonds made by the Company pursuant to tax exemption scheme under the Indian Income Tax Act, 1961. These bonds mature in five years from the time of deposit.

2.1.13 Available-for-sale securities are carried at fair market value with unrealized gains and losses, net of deferred income taxes, reported as a separate component of other comprehensive income in the statement of shareholders equity and comprehensive income. The fair values represent either the quoted market prices for the investments at balance sheet date where available or Net Asset Value (NAV) as stated by the issuers of these mutual fund units in the published statements. NAVs represent the price at which the issuer will issue further units in the mutual fund and the price at which the issuer will redeem such units from the investors. Accordingly, such NAVs are analogous to fair market value with respect to these investments as transactions of these mutual funds are carried out at such prices between investors and the issuers of these units of mutual funds.

Realized gains and losses, and decline in value judged to be other than temporary on available-for-sale securities are included in the consolidated statements of income. The cost of securities sold or disposed is determined on average cost basis.

Business combinations, goodwill and intangible assets

2.1.14 Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 141,

Business Combinations requires that the purchase method of accounting be used for all business combinations. SFAS No. 141 specifies criteria that intangible assets acquired in a business combination must be recognized and reported separately from goodwill. In accordance with SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets all assets and liabilities of the acquired businesses including goodwill are assigned to reporting units.

2.1.15 Goodwill represents the cost of the acquired businesses in excess of the fair value of identifiable tangible and intangible net assets purchased. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested for impairment atleast on an annual basis at year end, relying on a number of factors including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. Recoverability of goodwill is evaluated using a two-step process. The first step involves a comparison of the fair value of a reporting unit with its carrying value. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the second step of the process involves a comparison of the fair value and carrying value of the goodwill of that reporting unit. If the carrying value of the goodwill of a reporting unit exceeds the fair value of that goodwill, an impairment loss is recognized in an amount equal to the excess. Goodwill of a reporting unit will be tested for impairment between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of the reporting unit below its carrying amount.

2.1.16 Intangible assets acquired either through business combination or individually are amortized over their respective individual estimated useful lives in proportion to the economic benefits consumed in each period. Intangible assets comprise customer and technology related intangibles and are being amortized over a period of 5-10 years. The estimated useful life of an identifiable intangible asset is based on a number of factors including the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors (such as the stability of the industry, and known technological advances) and the level of maintenance expenditures required to obtain the expected future cash flows from the asset.

2.1.17 Intangible assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future undiscounted net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets.

Property, plant and equipment

2.1.18 Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Gains and losses on disposals are included in the consolidated statements of income at amounts equal to the difference between the net book value of the disposed assets and the net proceeds received upon disposal. Expenditures for replacements and improvements are capitalized, whereas the cost of maintenance and repairs is charged to income when incurred.

2.1.19 Property, plant and equipment are depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset using the straight-line method, once the asset is put to its intended use. The cost of software obtained for internal use is capitalized and amortized over the estimated useful life of the software. The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Buildings	40 years
Leasehold premises and improvements	Over the lease period or the useful lives of the assets, whichever is shorter
Computer Hardware and software and other service equipments	3 years
Furniture and fixtures	3-8 years
Other equipment	3-8 years
Vehicles	4-5 years

Impairment of long-lived assets and long-lived assets to be disposed

2.1.20 Long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles are reviewed for impairment whenever an event or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future net undiscounted cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell.

Functional and Foreign currency translation

2.1.21 The functional currency of Patni and its branches in the USA, Japan, Sweden, Finland, UAE, South Africa, Canada, Australia, Korea and Netherlands is the Indian Rupee. The functional currencies of Patni's subsidiaries are the applicable local currencies.

2.1.22 The accompanying consolidated financial statements are reported in US Dollars. The translation is performed for balance sheet accounts using the exchange rate in effect at the balance sheet date and for statements of income accounts using an appropriate monthly weighted average exchange rate for the respective periods. In respect of subsidiaries, the respective functional currencies are first translated into Indian Rupees and then into US Dollars. The gains or losses resulting from such translation are reported in other comprehensive income in the statement of shareholders' equity and comprehensive income.

Foreign currency transactions

2.1.23 Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange prevailing at the date of the transaction. Resulting gains or losses from settlement of such foreign currency transactions are included in the consolidated statements of income. Unsettled monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange prevailing at the balance sheet date. Transaction gain or loss arising from change in exchange rates between the date of transaction and year exchange rates are included in the consolidated statements of income.

Income taxes

2.1.24 Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of changes in tax rates is recognized in results of operations in the period that includes the enactment date. The measurement of deferred tax assets is reduced, if necessary, by a valuation allowance if it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the assets will not be realized. The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions in Other (expense)/income.

Concentration of credit risk

2.1.25 Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risks consist principally of cash, cash equivalents, investments and accounts receivables. Cash and cash equivalents are invested with corporations, financial institutions and banks with investment grade credit ratings. To reduce credit risk, investments are made in a diversified portfolio of mutual funds, government bonds, which are periodically reviewed. To reduce its credit risk on accounts receivables, the Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of customers.

Retirement benefits to employees

2.1.26 Contributions to defined contribution plans are charged to income in the period in which they accrue. Current services costs for defined benefit plans are accrued in the period to which they relate, based on actuarial valuation performed by an independent actuary in accordance with SFAS No. 87, Employers Accounting for Pensions, SFAS No. 132R Employers Disclosures about Pensions and Other Postretirement Benefits, both as amended by SFAS No. 158 Employer's Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans. The Company adopted SFAS No. 158 as of 31 December 2006 which requires the net funded position of the plans to be recognized as an asset or liability in the employers' balance sheet.

Stock-based compensation

2.1.27 The Company adopted SFAS No. 123R, Share-Based Payment (SFAS No. 123R) effective 1 January 2006. This statement requires compensation expense relating to share-based payments to be recognized in net income using a fair value measurement method. Under the fair value method, the estimated fair value of awards is charged to income on an accelerated basis over the requisite service period, which is generally the vesting period. The Company elected the modified prospective method as prescribed in SFAS No. 123R and therefore, prior period was not restated. Under the modified prospective method, this statement was applied to new awards granted after the time of adoption, as well as to the unvested portion of previously granted equity-based awards for which the requisite service had not been rendered as of 1 January 2006. The Company granted stock options under the Patni ESOP 2003 Revised 2006 plan (the plan). See Note 17 for further discussion.

2.1.28 Prior to 1 January 2006, the company accounted for share-based employee compensation under the provisions of SFAS No. 123 using the intrinsic value method prescribed by APB No. 25 and related interpretations. Under the intrinsic value method, no compensation expense was recognized for stock options, as the exercise price of employee stock options equated the market value of the Company's stock on the date of grant. The following pro forma net income and earnings per share information has been determined as if the Company had accounted for its share-based compensation awards issued using the fair value method in 2005.

Net income, as reported	$ 60,866,676
Less: Stock based employee compensation expense determined under fair value based method, net of tax effects	$ (3,501,531)
Pro forma net income	$ 57,365,145
Reported earnings per share
Basic	$ 0.48
Diluted	$ 0.48
Pro forma earnings per share
Basic	$ 0.46
Diluted	$ 0.45

2.1.29 The pro forma amounts and fair value of each option grant were estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for grants in 2005:

Dividend yield	0.53% - 0.54%
Expected life	2-5 years
Risk free interest rates	5.74% - 6.73%
Volatility	28% - 50%

The Black-Scholes model is a trading pricing model that does not reflect either the non-traded nature of employee stock options or the limited transferability of such options. This model also does not consider restrictions on trading for all employees, including certain restrictions imposed on senior management of the Company.

2.1.30 Prior to the adoption of SFAS 123R, the Company was required to record benefits associated with the tax deductions in excess of recognized compensation cost as an operating cash flow. However SFAS 123R requires that such benefits be recorded as a financing cash inflow. In the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows for year ended 31 December 2006 and 2007, tax benefit of US$ 23,338 and US$ 442,165, respectively have been classified as financing cash flows.

2.1.31 Effective 1 April 2007, an amendment has been made to Indian Income Tax Act, 1961 subjecting specified securities allotted or transferred by an employer to its employees to Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT). The Liability to pay FBT by the employer arises at the time of allotment of the securities, consequent to exercise of option by the employees and is calculated on the difference between the fair value of the underlying share on the date of vesting and the exercise price paid by the employee based on the corporate tax rate. The FBT arising from such allotment of specified option is collectible from employees which is considered as akin to a reset in the terms of the ESOP Plan as it would reduce the ultimate benefit to the employee, by way of increase in exercise price and hence is recognized as additional paid-in-capital.

Dividends

2.1.32 Dividends on common shares are recorded as a liability on the date of declaration by the shareholders at the Annual General Meeting.

Derivatives and hedge accounting

2.1.33 The Company enters into forward foreign exchange contracts / option contracts (derivatives) to mitigate the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates on inter company and end customer accounts receivable and forecasted sales transactions denominated in foreign currencies and, upon completion of the formal documentation and testing for effectiveness, the company designates forward and option contracts, which meet the hedging criteria, as cash flow hedges. Changes in fair value of designated cash flow hedges are deferred and recorded as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income until the hedged transactions occur and are then recognized in the consolidated statements of income. Changes in fair value for derivatives not designated as hedging instruments and ineffective portion of the hedging instruments are recognized in consolidated statements of income in the current period.

Meeting

2.1.34 In respect of derivatives designated as hedges, the Company formally documents all relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. The Company also formally assesses, both at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, whether each derivative is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item. If it is determined that a derivative is not highly effective as a hedge, or if a derivative ceases to be a highly effective hedge, the Company will, prospectively, discontinue hedge accounting with respect to that derivative. The derivatives, which do not qualify for hedge accounting, are accordingly, recognised at fair value with gains or losses included in foreign exchange (gain)/loss in the consolidated statements of income.

Earnings per share

2.1.35 In accordance with SFAS No. 128, Earnings per Share , basic earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of common and redeemable common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of common and redeemable common shares and dilutive common equivalent shares outstanding during the year using the treasury stock method for options except where the result would be anti- dilutive.

Commitments and Contingencies

2.1.36 Liabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigations, fines and penalties and other sources are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the assessment and/or remediation can be reasonably estimated.

Reclassifications

2.1.37 Certain reclassifications have been made in the financial statements of prior years to conform to classifications used in the current year.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

2.1.38 In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (Statement 159). Statement 159 gives the Company the irrevocable option to carry most financial assets and liabilities at fair value that are not currently required to be measured at fair value. If the fair value option is elected, changes in fair value would be recorded in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. SFAS 159 is effective for the Company's 2008 fiscal year. Effective 1 January 2008 the Company adopted the provision of SFAS No. 159. The Company has not made election for fair value option for any existing eligible instruments.

2.1.39 In September 2006, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Value Measurement (Statement 157). Statement 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for the measurement of fair value, and enhances disclosures about fair value measurements. The Statement does not require any new fair value measures. The Statement is effective for fair value measures already required or permitted by other standards for fiscal years beginning after 15 November 2007. The Company is required to adopt Statement 157 beginning on 1 January 2008. Statement 157 is required to be applied prospectively, except for certain financial instruments. Any transition adjustment will be recognized as an adjustment to opening retained earnings in the year of adoption. In November 2007, the FASB proposed a one-year deferral of Statement 157's fair value measurement requirements for non financial assets and liabilities that are not required or permitted to be measured at fair value on a recurring basis. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting Statement 157 on its results of operations and financial position.

2.1.40 In December 2007, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 141R, Business Combinations (Statement 141R) and FASB Statement No. 160, Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements – an amendment to ARB No. 51 (Statement 160). Statements 141R and 160 require most identifiable assets, liabilities, noncontrolling interests, and goodwill acquired in a business combination to be recorded at full fair value and require noncontrolling interests (previously referred to as minority interests) to be reported as a component of equity, which changes the accounting for transactions with noncontrolling interest holders. Both Statements are effective for periods beginning on or after 15 December 2008, and earlier adoption is prohibited. Statement 141R will be applied to business combinations occurring after the effective date. Statement 160 will be applied prospectively to all noncontrolling interests, including any that arose before the effective date. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting Statement 141R and Statement 160 on its results of operations and financial position.

Recently adopted accounting standards

2.1.41 Effective 1 January 2007, the Company adopted provisions of FIN 48. FIN 48 addresses the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements and prescribes a threshold of more-likely-than-not for recognition and derecognition of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. FIN 48 also provides related guidance on assurance, classification, interest and penalties, and disclosure. See note 18.1.11 for the impact of adopting FIN 48 on the Company's results of operations and financial position.

11. Change in estimate

During 2006, the Company reached a settlement with the Internal Revenue Service (the IRS) relating to its tax returns of its U.S. operations (Patni USA and its US branch) for fiscal years 2001 and 2002. The settlement addressed transfer pricing, branch tax matters and payroll taxes. The Company was unable to substantiate to the IRS that returns pertaining to its U.S. branch for the years ended 31 March 2002 and 2003 were filed within 18 months from the respective due dates and hence were deemed as delinquent returns by the IRS. Accordingly, the IRS disallowed all of the deductions on the branch income tax returns and assessed additional income tax obligations of US$ 15.2 million. Delinquent tax returns were treated as errors in computation of income taxes for the years in which such tax returns were due for filing under the IRS rules and the Company restated its 2003 and 2004 financial statements for such errors.

The Company reviewed the adequacy of the previously established tax exposure reserves with respect to prior years in July 2006 in light of certain positions taken by the IRS during the settlement for 2001 and 2002 and based on such positions, the Company revised its estimate for tax exposure relating to various income tax matters along with related adjustments to accrued interest. The IRS settlement for 2001 and 2002 also covered payroll tax matters for which a provision had previously been established. The settlement resulted in a liability that was less than the amount previously provided for, in part due to the liability being offset by an increase in income tax liability during settlement. As a result, the Company reduced its accrual for payroll taxes exposure during 2006 with a consequential reversal of the related deferred tax asset.

These revisions to the established tax exposure reserves represented a revision to previous reserve estimates, and accordingly, such amounts have been recorded as part of the consolidated statement of income for the company's fiscal year ended 31 December 2006 as a change in estimate as follows:

Reduction of accrual for payroll taxes (1)	$	(9,041,958)
Increase in interest expense		2,600,608
Increase in other expense (2)		(3,743,032)

Increase in income taxes - deferred		3,421,312
	$	20,165,850

1) Included under cost of revenues

2) Included under other income/expense

The respective annual amounts with respect to the above amount are shown in the table provided below:

These agreements provide for cancellation by either party with a notice period ranging from 30 days to 120 days, after the initial lock-in period, if any. Some leases contain a clause for renewal of the lease agreements. Some leases provide for annual renewal of the lease payments.

15. Derivatives financial instruments

- 15.1.1 The Company frequently enters into foreign currency forward and option contracts to hedge inter company and end customer receivables, both anticipated and firm commitments. These contracts are entered into to mitigate foreign currency risk caused by changes in exchange rates and are used to hedge these inter company and end customer receivables. At 31 December 2007, the Company's foreign currency contracts mature within one to twenty nine months.

Since there is a direct relationship between the forward contracts and the currency denomination of the underlying transaction, the forward contracts are highly effective in hedging the cash flows of the Company's inter company and end customer receivables. These forward contracts also meet the criteria for cash flow hedge accounting treatment and, accordingly, part of revaluation gains or losses on these forward contracts are included in other comprehensive income (loss) and are recognized in the consolidated statement of income based on occurrence of the underlying transaction.

For forward contracts designated as a cash flow hedge, the hedge effectiveness is assessed based on changes in fair value attributable to changes in spot prices and accordingly, the changes in the fair value of the contract related to the changes in the difference between the spot price and the forward or futures price would be excluded from assessment of hedge effectiveness and recognised in consolidated statements of income together with any ineffective portion of the hedge.

At 31 December 2007, the Company had US$ 462,451 of net gains related to cash flow hedges deferred in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income.

At 31 December 2007 US$ 390,968 of deferred gains on derivative instruments accumulated in other comprehensive income are expected to be reclassified to earnings during the next 12 months. There were no cash flow hedges which were discontinued during the year because of non-occurrence of forecasted transaction.

16.1.1 The Company has only one class of equity shares. For all matters submitted to vote in the shareholders' meeting, every holder of equity shares (except holders of American Depository Shares - ADSs), as reflected in the records of the Company on the date of the shareholders meeting shall have one vote in respect of each share held. In the event of liquidation of the affairs of the Company, all preferential amounts, if any, shall be discharged by the Company. The remaining assets of the Company after such discharge shall be distributed to the holders of equity shares in proportion to the number of shares held by them.

16.1.4 The ability of Patni to declare and pay dividend under the Companies Act, is determined by its distributable profits as shown by its statutory accounts prepared in accordance with Indian GAAP. When Patni wishes to declare dividends, it is required as per the Companies Act, to transfer upto 10% of its net income (after the deduction of any accumulated deficit) computed in accordance with local regulations to a general reserve before a dividend can be declared. Also, Indian law on foreign exchange governs the remittance of dividends outside India.

17. Employee stock compensation plans

17.1.1 On 30 June 2003, Patni established the Patni ESOP 2003 plan (the plan). Under the plan, the Company is authorized to issue up to 11,142,085 equity shares to eligible employees. Employees covered by the Plan are granted an option, which may be based on service or performance criteria, to purchase shares of the Company subject to the requirements of vesting. The options vest in a graded manner over four years with 25% of the options vesting at the end of each year and expire at the end of 5 years from the date of vesting. A compensation committee constituted by the Board of Directors of the Company administers the plan. The plan has been amended to enable the Company to issue up to 2,000,000 ADR linked options (wherein one ADR linked option is equal to two equity shares) to the employees of the Company as well as its subsidiaries and hence Patni ESOP 2003- Revised 2006 has come into force with effect from 21 June 2006.

The Company issued 200,000 Performance Linked options in May 2006 to certain Senior Management Personnel under the Patni ESOP 2003-Revised 2006 Plan wherein vesting of options is dependant on achieving certain set targets. Vesting is triggered on achievement of the targets, but no lesser than 12 months after grant of options. Based on set targets, as at 31 December 2007, 70,000 options vested. Compensation cost is recognised on a cumulative catch up basis based on the assessment of probability of performance criteria being achieved.

17.1.2 The weighted average grant date fair values of options granted during the year ended 31 December 2005 and 2006 are US$ 3.10 and US$ 3.85 respectively. The weighted average grant date fair values of options granted during the year ended 31 December 2007 was US$ 3.58 for equity linked options and US$ 4.39 for ADR linked options respectively.

18.1.4 In assessing the realisability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not, that some portion, or all, of the deferred tax assets will not be realised. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences and loss carryforwards are deductible. Management considers the reversal of taxable temporary differences, the projected future taxable income, tax planning strategies and impact of tax exemptions currently available to the company, in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable incomes over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes that it is more likely than not, the Company will realise the benefits of those deductible differences, net of existing valuation allowances. Taxable income for the years

2005, 2006 and 2007 aggregated US$ 16,336,603, US$ 29,143,691 and US$ 34,905,541 respectively.

18.1.5 Deferred tax liability in respect of undistributed earnings of Patni's foreign subsidiaries as of 2006 and 2007 aggregating US$ 4,688,485 and US$ 4,732,486 respectively has not been recognised in the financial statements, as such earnings are considered to be indefinitely re-invested. As of 31 December 2007, the undistributed earnings of these subsidiaries were approximately US$ 31,549,905.

18.1.6 The net change in the year 2005 is attributable to reversal of valuation allowance on carry forward losses of Patni Telecom (which was acquired during the year 2004) aggregating US$ 2,918,367 and reversal of valuation allowance of US$ 67,623 on impairment of leasehold land. The net change in valuation allowance in the year 2006 is mainly on account of deferred tax created on business loss of Japan branch for the year 2006 aggregating to US$ 501,719. The net change in valuation allowance in the year 2007 is mainly on account of deferred tax created on business loss of Australia branch aggregating to US$ 370,305.

18.1.8 Upon acquisition of Patni Telecom, the Company was entitled to utilize tax benefits on carry forward business losses of Patni Telecom. Based on preliminary projections of future taxable income and tax planning strategies, management believed that there existed sufficient uncertainty regarding realization of tax benefits on the carry forward losses. Consequently, the Company recorded a valuation allowance for the carry forward business losses of Patni Telecom. In 2005, the Company evaluated the expected realization of such carry forward losses and available tax planning strategies and believed that the Company would make sufficient profits in future years to set off the carry forward losses. Accordingly, the valuation allowance has been reversed and adjusted against goodwill.

18.1.9 A substantial portion of profits of the group's India operations is exempt from Indian income tax, being profit from undertakings situated at Software Technology Parks. Under the tax holiday, the tax payer can utilize exemption of profits from income taxes for a period of ten consecutive years. The Company has opted for this exemption for undertakings situated in Software Technology Parks and these exemptions expire on various dates between years 2005 and 2009. The aggregate effect on net income of the tax holiday and export incentive scheme were US$ 18,957,774, US$ 25,304,980 and US$ 28,931,047 for 2005, 2006 and 2007 respectively. Further, the per share effect was US$ 0.15, US$ 0.18 and US$ 0.20 for 2005, 2006 and 2007 respectively.

18.1.10 During the year 2005, the Company has sold leasehold land for a consideration of US$ 3,768,186 and recognised a gain on sale of US$ 3,285,169. As required by the Indian Income Tax law, the Company has reinvested the proceeds from this sale in prescribed securities for a period of three years so as to realize the gain on sale in a tax free manner.

18.1.11 The Company and some of its subsidiaries files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, and various states and foreign jurisdictions. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local, or non-U.S. income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2002. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) commenced an examination of the Company's U.S. income tax returns for 2003 through 2005 in the first quarter of 2006 that is anticipated to be completed by the end of 2008. As of 31 December 2007, the IRS has proposed no significant adjustments to the Company's tax positions. The Company does not anticipate that adjustments resulting from this examination would result in a material change to its financial position. However, the Company anticipates that it is reasonably possible that no additional payment will be made by the end of 2008

The Company adopted the provisions of FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, on 1 January 2007. As a result of the implementation of Interpretation 48, the Company recognized no increase/decrease in the tax liability. A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits is as follows:

Balance at 1 January 2007	$	41,701,814
Additions based on tax positions related to the current year		7,631,819
Additions for tax positions of prior years
Reductions for tax positions of prior years
Settlements
Balance at 31 December 2007	$	49,333,633

During the year ended 31 December 2007, the Company recognized US$ 3,520,294 in interest and penalties. As of 31 December 2007, the Company has US$ 9,264,295 of accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

We conduct our business globally, and, as a result, the Company and some of its subsidiaries file income tax returns in India, the U.S., and various foreign jurisdictions. The tax years ended 31 March 2000 to 31 March 2007 remain open to examination by the Indian tax authorities. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2002. 20 Segment Information

20.1.1 SFAS No. 131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, establishes standards for the way enterprises report information about operating segments and related disclosures about products and services, geographic areas and major customers. The Company's operations relate to providing IT services and solutions, delivered to customers operating in various industry segments. Accordingly, revenues represented along industry classes comprise the principal basis of segmental information set out in these consolidated financial statements. Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of the customers. The accounting policies consistently used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are also consistently applied to individual segment information.

20.1.2 Industry segments of the Company comprise financial services, insurance services, manufacturing companies, communications media and entertainment, technology services (comprising independent software vendors and product engineering) and others such as energy and utilities, retail, logistics and transportation. The Company evaluates segment performance and allocates resources based on revenue growth. Revenue in relation to segments is categorized based on items that are individually identifiable to that segment. Costs are not specifically allocable to individual segment as the underlying resources and services are used interchangeably. Effective 1 January 2007, the Company has integrated these two business segments with the primary focus on the following synergies (i) demand for providing end-to-end solutions from product engineering clients. Substantial portion of Patni's long lived assets are located in India.

24 Line of Credit

The Company has an overall Line of Credit of Rs. 140,000,000 (US$ 3,160,984) and Rs. 610,000,000 (US$ 15,478,305) as of 31 December 2006 and 2007, respectively, from its bankers for various requirements such as pre & post shipment loan, Export Bill Discounting, Overdrafts, Working capital demand loan, Financial Guarantees, Guarantees - Bid Bond / Performance, etc. These facilities bear interest as negotiated with the bank from time to time. In addition Patni Inc has a facility for issuance of Letters of credit to the extent of US$ Nil and US$ 500,000 as of December 2006 and 2007, respectively.

25 Commitments and Contingencies

25.1.3 In December 2006, the Company received a demand notice from the Indian Income Tax department of approximately Rs. 630.17 million, including an interest demand of approximately Rs. 186.85 million (US$ 15,990,012 including an interest demand of approximately US$ 4,734,311) for the assessment year 2004-05. The tax demand was mainly on account of disallowance of deduction claimed by the Company under Section 10A of the Income Tax Act, 1961, in respect of profits earned by its various eligible undertakings. Section 10A of Indian Income Tax Act exempts the profits earned by an undertaking for the export of computer software upon the fulfillment of certain conditions. One of the conditions is that the unit should not have been formed by the splitting up of an existing business. The Company had only expanded its software development business whereas the Income Tax department contends that the business of the new units is comprised of business transferred from existing units by splitting them. The Company, in consultation with its tax advisers, filed an appeal in January 2007 challenging the disallowance.

One of the requirements under the Indian Income Tax Rules to proceed with an appeal is to deposit, either immediately or through monthly installments, a sum equivalent to 50% of the amount that is under appeal. Until 31 December 2007, the Company has deposited a sum of Rs. 269.17 million (US$ 6,829,927). Considering the facts and nature of disallowances and based on the advice given by the Company's legal counsel, management believes that the disallowance is not tenable and management therefore is confident of a favorable outcome in appeal proceedings and hence no provision for such income tax demand is considered necessary.

Subsequently, in February 2008 the Company has received a order from the Commissioner of Income Tax (CIT) (Appeals) in favor of the Company by allowing the claim under Section 10A. The Company has received the refund of taxes paid after adjustment of the new demand for the assessment year 2002-03.

In December 2007, the Company received another demand, of Rs. 261.70 million inclusive an interest demand of approximately Rs. 139.88 million (US$ 6,640,524 including an interest demand of approximately US$ 3,549,285) for the assessment year 2002-03. The new demand concerns the same issue of disallowance of tax benefits under Section 10A.

In the opinion of management, and based on advice received, the demand is not tenable against the Company and the company has already filed an appeal with the appellate authority.

Subsequently, in March 2008 the Company has received a order from the CIT (Appeals) in favor of the Company by allowing the claim under Section 10A. The total amount paid till March 2008 of Rs. 261.70 million (US$ 6,524,633) is receivable as refund.

Certain other income tax related legal proceedings are pending against the Company. Potential liabilities, if any, have been adequately provided for, and the Company does not currently estimate any incremental liability in respect of these proceedings. Additionally, the Company is also involved in lawsuits and claims which arise in ordinary course of business. There are no such matters pending that Patni expects to be material in relation to its business.

Risk Management

Growth means change and change involves RISK, stepping from the known to the unknown

The risk management function is integral to the Company and its objectives include ensuring that critical risks are identified continuously, monitored and managed effectively in order to protect the Company's businesses.

Framework

Patni has adopted an integrated risk management framework that enables continuous identification, assessment, monitoring and management of the organization's risks. The audit committee of the board monitors the risk management framework to provide direction to the management. The framework is designed to identify and assess risks at the operational as well as entity level. The mitigation plan is designed based on management's response to the assessed risks. The risk framework seeks to address the following key risks.

Business Risks

Being the driver of the Company's strategy, the top management is well acquainted with the risks inherent to the software development business and the risks emerging from its strategic decisions. Therefore, top management plays a significant role in addressing business risks. These risks can be classified as follows:

Concentration of Service Offerings

We derive a significant proportion of our revenues from insurance, manufacturing and financial services verticals. A breakdown of the industries is as follows:

Year 2005

Year 2006

Year 2007

The Company has demonstrated strong domain knowledge, a large scalable operation and a full services capability from multiple service lines including application development and maintenance, enterprise application systems, infrastructure management services, and business process outsourcing. The Company endeavors to enhance its portfolio of industry segments and service offerings.

Client Concentration

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

A significant proportion of the Company's revenues are derived from a small number of customers, of which GE is the largest. While maintaining a strong relationship with GE, the Company has made continuous efforts to obtain larger business from other customers. In 2007, GE revenues were less than the previous year's levels, while the revenues from all our other clients grew by 18.0%. Revenues from clients outside the top 10 grew by 28.5% in 2007 as compared to 2006. Thereby, the share of business from GE reduced from 22.1% in 2005 to 14.6% in 2006 to 11.8% in 2007.

Country Concentration

Patni primarily derives its revenues from the U.S geography. With slowdown in the recent trend of economy in the U.S., cycle times of technology spending by clients maybe elongated. This may negatively impact the Company's business by lowering the demand for its services. The Company therefore continues to focus on market expansion in Europe and other emerging markets. To achieve this, the Company has augmented its sales teams and opened new offices and establishments in some of these regions. Our U.S. based revenues grew by 10.4% whereas revenues from other regions grew by 32.0% in 2007.

The following is the geography-wise break-up of revenues for 2005, 2006 and 2007:

Year 2005

Year 2006

Year 2007

All fixed price contracts are monitored closely to ensure that all contractual obligations and project deadlines are met and to mitigate the delivery risk. Patni has a dedicated enterprise risk management team that focuses on project delivery risks. It identifies the critical projects and monitors the delivery risks faced in relation to such projects. The Company faces potential risks arising out of political instability, changes in the currently favorable policies of the government towards the software sector, etc. The Indian government has recognized the global competitiveness of the Indian software industry and continues to adopt progressive policies to encourage sustainable growth of the industry.

Accounts Receivable

The Company's receivables position, measured in terms of days sales outstanding, is at about 73 days. The Company primarily has Fortune 1000 customers and hence carries low credit risks. In case of non Fortune 1000 customers, the Company undertakes suitable credit assessments to secure itself from credit defaults and bad debts on account of such customers. The Company has suitably streamlined its processes to develop a more focused and aggressive receivables management system to ensure timely collections.

Clear roles, responsibilities and authorities, coupled with robust internal information systems, ensure appropriate information flow to facilitate effective monitoring. Adequate controls are established to ensure that assets of the Company are safeguarded and transactions are executed in accordance with documented policies. Compliance with the above policies is monitored through regular internal audits of processes as well as underlying transactions. The Company has appointed independent audit firms as internal auditors. The Audit Committee periodically reviews their reports and recommendations. Action plans are agreed with the process owners to facilitate proper implementation of the recommendations. The auditors also conduct follow up reviews to report on the efficacy of the implementation process.

Risks emerging from nature of Financial Operations

Foreign Exchange Fluctuations

The Company earns revenues in various currencies, with revenues in US dollars comprising the bulk, whereas a significant part of costs is in Indian Rupee. This exposes the Company to risks arising out of fluctuations in the foreign exchange rates, especially in case of USD-INR. The Company seeks to reduce effect of such risks by using hedging instruments such as currency forwards and options. The treasury team focuses on mitigating foreign exchange fluctuation risks in accordance with the Forex policy framed by the Audit Committee in this regard.

Liquidity Management

The Company's cash reserves and liquid assets are managed through efficient treasury operations. Patni is a nearly zero-debt Company except for a small exposure towards car leases. Its investment policy is driven by the objectives of i) ensuring adequate liquidity to meet any business exigency and ii) safety of its investments. Accordingly, the investible surpluses are deployed in debt mutual funds such as cash / liquid / liquid plus or short term debt funds. We also invest in fixed maturity plans of various tenors. These insurances protect the Company from financial risks emanating from nonperformance of contractual obligations.

Taxation

The Company is suitably represented by competent legal firms in such geographies where it has its operations. These firms advise the Company on various legal requirements. Item Nos. 8 & 9

With the objective of attracting, motivating, rewarding and retaining employees of the Company and of its subsidiaries, for their high levels of individual performance and for their efforts to improve the financial performance of the Company and their loyalty to the Company, the Members of the Company passed a Special Resolution at the 25th Annual General Meeting of the Company held on 30 June 2003 authorising the Board to issue upto 11,142,085 equity shares of the Company to certain eligible employees under the Patni ESOP 2003. After Initial Public Offering (IPO) in February 2004, the said Resolution was later ratified by the Members of the Company by passing the Special Resolutions at the 26th Annual General Meeting held on 29 June 2004 (The Resolutions). Pursuant to Patni ESOP 2003, the Board was authorised to grant, to the eligible employees, stock options to purchase equity shares of the Company. Subsequent to this, in December 2005, the Company also completed its initial offering of American Depositary Shares (ADSs) in the United States. The ADSs evidenced by American Depositary Receipts are currently traded in the United States on the New York Stock Exchange under the code PTI. In view of the above and in order to provide liquidity to employees of the Company or its subsidiaries, located outside India, to acquire ADSs or equity shares of the Company, the Company at its 28th Annual General Meeting held on 21 June 2006 amended the Patni ESOP 2003 to the extent that certain number of Options [2,000,000 ADSs (Representing 4,000,000 equity shares of Rs. 2/- each)] would be granted in the form of ADR Linked Options to enable certain employees to acquire the ADSs provided that the aggregate stock options, at any point in time, shall not exceed 11,142,085 equity shares (including the underlying shares issued in respect of ADSs) of par value of Rs.2/- of the Company.

As the abovementioned Options were issued on market related prices, the recent fall in the market prices in general and the information technology companies shares in particular, the Options granted to the employees have become unattractive. In order to make them attractive and to motivate the employees to perform better, it is now proposed to modify Options terms, inter alia, by modifying/repricing the terms of Options (both vested and unvested, but not exercised) at the option of the employees as decided by the Board/ the Compensation and Remuneration Committee by modification of Option terms.

Edgar Filing: Patni Computer Systems LTD - Form 6-K

The salient features of modification/repricing of Options are as follows:

(a)	(i)	The total number of Options under the Plan (as approved by the Members on 30 June 2003).	(i)	11,142,085 Options
	(ii)	Total number of Options granted	(ii)	Approximately 9,818,992
	(iii)	Total number of Options exercised	(iii)	Approximately 1,912,140
	(iv)	Total number of outstanding Options including ADR Linked Options	(iv)	Approximately 5,800,000
	(v)	Modification/repricing of terms of Options	(v)	i) Exercise Price per Option reduced to Rs. 2/- per share; ii) Reduction in the number of Options granted. The reduction percentage is approximately in the range of 38% to 92% as may be determined by the Board/Compensation and Remuneration Committee.

(b) Identification of classes of employees entitled to participate in the repricing of Options.	All the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries, who are Optionholders, are entitled to opt for the modification of terms of Options, inter alia, at revised price of Options. It is also applicable to Executive directors as well as Non-executive directors who have been granted Options as per Patni ESOP but not to the Promoter Directors.
(c) Requirements of vesting and period of vesting	Subject to the minimum and maximum periods, the Vesting period in respect of any modified/repriced Options shall be the same as applicable to Options originally granted or as determined by the Compensation and Remuneration Committee.
(d) Exercise price	Options will be exercisable at the price of Rs. 2/- per share. [Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT), as applicable, will be recovered from the employees]
(e) Exercise period and process of exercise	The Options granted under the said Plan shall be exercisable at such times and under such conditions as determined by the Compensation and Remuneration Committee. The Options shall be deemed to have exercised when the Company receives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Written notice (Exercise Form) from a Optionholder entitled to exercise the Options; and b. Full payment for the shares with respect to which the Options are exercised plus applicable FBT amount.
(f) Maximum number of Options to be issued per employee and in aggregate	The Minimum and Maximum number of Options to be issued will be decided by the Compensation and Remuneration Committee.
(g) Cost to the Company	Cost of modification/repricing will be recognised in the Profit & Loss Account in accordance with the Guidance Note on Accounting issued by The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI).

The Company shall conform to the accounting policies specified in clause 13.1 of the ESOS/ESPS Guidelines and the Guidance Note on Accounting for Employee Share Based Payments issued by ICAI.

The Resolutions as set out in item nos. 8 & 9 relate to the modification to the terms of Options. The Board recommends for your approval the resolutions set out in item nos. 8 & 9.

The copy of the Patni ESOP 2003 (Revised 2006) is available for inspection at the Registered Office of the Company during the business hours till the date of the Annual General Meeting.

None of the Directors of the Company are concerned or interested in these resolutions except to the extent of Options which have been granted to them pursuant to this Plan.
