Email from Kessel Stelling to Synovus Team Members

Subject: Florida Community Bank Integration Activities Underway

We'll provide periodic updates as we prepare to welcome our newest team members from Florida Community Bank (FCB) to the Synovus family early next year. Since announcement day July 24, we've made great progress mapping our path toward a smooth, effective merging of our teams:

Both Synovus and FCB have named cross-functional integration teams that will work side-by-side to ensure the strengths of both our organizations are carried forward post-merger.

We've visited with members of the FCB sales team and other areas of the bank to begin building deeper relationships and better understand strengths, processes, products, and services.

We've continued meeting with investors to promote the many benefits of this partnership for both banks – including accelerated growth opportunities through our expanded presence and capabilities in the strong South Florida region.

With every day that passes, we get more and more excited about what this merger means for our team, customers, and shareholders. And we can't wait for the FCB team to experience Synovus' people-first culture through our team members, who daily demonstrate who we are to each other and those we serve.

Stay tuned for more updates on our progress, and on ways we'll reach out to the FCB team. Thanks for all you do!

Kessel
