On October 28, 2015, DENTSPLY International, Inc. ("DENTSPLY") held a conference call to discuss its third quarter 2015 earnings results. The following are excerpts from the transcript of such call discussing DENTSPLY's pending merger with Sirona Dental Systems, Inc.:

Bret Wise: Of course our discussion this morning would not be complete without a few comments on the Sirona merger. As you know, we announced a historic merger with Sirona back in September. This is a very exciting event for both companies, but also for our markets. By bringing together the best in technology equipment and consumables, we believe that we can deliver more innovation and more value to our customers than either company could deliver on its own. We're of course currently in the process of filing for regulatory approval and have pending shareholder approval for both companies and we expect the transaction to close in the first quarter of 2016. Although we'll not say a lot more about the merger in this call, it's fair to say that we're very enthusiastic about the potential of this transaction and also the future we have together with Sirona and their employees.

Chris Clark: I'd like to provide a brief update on the timing of certain filings that we expect to complete in the coming days. In light of the upcoming merger with Sirona and related capital market activities, we will be filing a revision to some historical financials to conform to the segment reporting that we initiated in March of this year. As such, you will soon see a revision -- this revision in the form 10-K that will be filed shortly. In addition, we also anticipate refiling the S-4 Proxy Statement and our form 10-Q for the third quarter shortly thereafter.

Steve Beuchaw - Morgan Stanley: Good morning guys. Thanks for taking the questions. Just one for Bret. Bret, I'd like to open the floor up and give you a chance to talk about what it is you're seeing in your dialogue over the last several weeks with investors as it relates to the Sirona transaction. Where you feel like you wanted to invest or needed to invest the most time to help people understand the merits of the deal, the parameters of the deal just to help people get comfortable as they think about the story.

Bret Wise: Steve, we are in the regulatory approval process right now and the process of filing for antitrust approval and also shareholder approval. I think on this point we've got to stick to the script that we had at the time we did the announcement. The two companies are still operating independently of each other at this point. And so I think I'd refer you back to the slide deck that we have from the announcement in mid-September. I don't think we can go any further than that on this call this morning.
