FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Annual Report on Form 10-K contains statements and from time to time our management may make statements that may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In some cases, you can identify these statements by forward-looking words such as may, might, will, should, expect, plan, anticipate, believe, predict, potential or continue, and the negative of these terms and other comparable terminology. These forward-looking statements, which are subject to known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions about us, may include projections of our future financial performance based on our growth strategies and anticipated trends in our business. These statements are only predictions based on our current expectations and projections about future events. There are important factors that could cause our actual results, level of activity, performance or achievements to differ materially from the results, level of activity, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. In particular, you should consider the risks and uncertainties described under Item 1A. Risk Factors.

These risks and uncertainties are not exhaustive. Other sections of this report describe additional factors that could adversely impact our business and financial performance. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New risks and uncertainties emerge from time to time, and it is not possible to predict all risks and uncertainties, nor can we assess the impact of all factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

Although we believe the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance or achievements. Moreover, neither we nor any other person assumes responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of any of these forward-looking statements. You should not rely upon forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. We are under no duty to update any of these forward-looking statements after the date of this report to conform our prior statements to actual results or revised expectations and we do not intend to do so.

We caution you not to place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this report.

We expressly qualify in their entirety all forward-looking statements attributable to us or any person acting on our behalf by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section.

Pursuant to the terms of the Combination Agreement described above, Euronext's business will be brought under NYSE Euronext through an exchange offer (the "Offer") and a post-closing reorganization, and NYSE Group's business will be brought under NYSE Euronext through a merger (the "Merger"). On January 5, 2007, NYSE Euronext and NYSE Group entered into a $2.5 billion credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement"), by and among NYSE Euronext, as borrower, NYSE Group, as guarantor until the completion of the Merger, the lender parties thereto, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, Citibank, N.A., as syndication agent, Société Générale, as documentation agent, and the presenting banks referred to therein. The Credit Agreement is a 364-day revolving facility with availability of funds in U.S. dollars or Euros. The purpose of the Credit Agreement is limited to the funding of the cash consideration payable to Euronext shareholders who tender their shares in the Offer.

NYSE Euronext may elect to have revolving loans under the Credit Agreement borrowed in U.S. dollars or Euros, with various interest rate options. On the effective date of the Credit Agreement, no borrowings were funded under the Credit Agreement. In addition, NYSE Euronext will pay a commitment fee of 0.02% per annum of the unused commitment amount, commencing on the effective date of the Credit Agreement. The Credit Agreement is unsecured and contains customary representations and warranties (including, but not limited to, those relating to organization and authorization, compliance with laws and litigation) and customary events of default (including, but not limited to, monetary defaults, covenant defaults and bankruptcy events). The Credit Agreement does not contain a financial covenant.
