Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

Earlier today, June 18, 2008, Henry R. Silverman, Realogy's non-executive chairman of the Board of Directors, appeared as a guest on CNBC's Squawk Box program where he was incorrectly introduced and identified as Realogy's CEO and chairman. As previously announced, Richard A. Smith has served as Realogy's CEO and president since Nov. 13, 2007.

During his appearance, Mr. Silverman made a number of personal observations about the Company and the residential real estate market. Mr. Silverman's comments should not be construed as guidance or data from the Company with respect to its historical or forecasted financial results.

Realogy would like to make the following clarifications:

The Company has not given nor does it expect to provide financial guidance for 2008 or for any future quarter of 2008;

In particular, Realogy has not disclosed its average homesale price forecast for the summer of 2008;

With regard to the comment about the total annualized number of existing homesale units in the United States, the National Association of Realtors has reported seasonally adjusted annualized U.S. homesale units of approximately 4.9 million to 5.1 million units for each of the past eight months, from September 2007 to April 2008;

Mr. Silverman stated that homesale transaction volume in California was down 50% in May 2008 compared to May 2007. We believe this figure reflects certain prior periods already publicly reported, and in any event this does not represent the Company's results in California in May; and

With respect to our market share, as previously disclosed, we believe our franchisees and company-owned brokerage operations received approximately 24% of all brokerage commissions paid in homesale transactions in the United States during 2007.

Realogy will report its second quarter 2008 financial results in mid-August.
