Verizon Closes Sale of Euro and Sterling Notes

With Proceeds of $5.4 Billion in Value

NEW YORK Verizon Communications Inc. (NYSE, Nasdaq: VZ) today closed on the sale of three series of its capital markets notes 1,750,000,000 2.375% Notes due 2022; 1,250,000,000 3.25% Notes due 2026; and £850,000,000 4.75% Notes due 2034 with a value totaling approximately $5.4 billion.

This is the first Verizon Communications corporate notes offering in euro and sterling, and net proceeds will be used primarily to finance, in part, Verizon's acquisition of Vodafone Group Plc's 45 percent indirect ownership interest in Verizon Wireless.

Net proceeds used to finance this acquisition will reduce anticipated borrowings under a term loan agreement, dated Oct. 1, 2013, which provides Verizon with the ability to borrow up to $12.0 billion. To the extent that the net proceeds from this offering are not used to finance the acquisition, which is expected to close on Feb. 21, 2014, they will be used for general corporate purposes.

Verizon expects to list the notes on the New York Stock Exchange within the next 30 days. Further information is available in a prospectus posted on Feb. 6, 2014, at www.verizon.com/investor/secfiling.htm.

The underwriters, which included four minority- and women-owned firms, were: Banco Santander, S.A.; Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited; Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch; The Royal Bank of Scotland plc; Lloyds Bank plc; Mizuho International plc; CastleOak Securities, L.P.; Muriel Siebert & Co., Inc.; The Williams Capital Group, L.P.; and Blaylock Robert Van, LLC.

Verizon Communications Inc. (NYSE, Nasdaq: VZ), headquartered in New York, is a global leader in delivering broadband and other wireless and wireline communications services to consumer, business, government and wholesale customers. Forward-Looking Statements

In this communication we have made forward-looking statements. These statements are based on our estimates and assumptions and are subject to risks and uncertainties. Forward-looking statements include the information concerning our possible or assumed future results of operations. Forward-looking statements also include those preceded or followed by the words "anticipates," "believes," "estimates," "hopes" or similar expressions. For those statements, we claim the protection of the safe harbor for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The following important factors, along with those discussed in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), could affect future results and could cause those results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements: the ability to realize the expected benefits of our proposed transaction with Vodafone in the timeframe expected or at all; the ability to complete the Vodafone transaction in the timeframe expected or at all and the costs that could be required to do so; failure to satisfy any closing conditions to the Vodafone transaction or events giving rise to termination of the transaction agreement; an adverse change in the ratings afforded our debt securities by nationally accredited ratings organizations or adverse conditions in the credit markets affecting the cost, including interest rates, and/or availability of further financing; significantly increased levels of indebtedness as a result of the Vodafone transaction; changes in tax laws or treaties, or in their interpretation; adverse conditions in the U.S. and international economies; material adverse changes in labor matters, including labor negotiations, and any resulting financial and/or operational impact; material changes in technology or technology substitution; disruption of our key suppliers' provisioning of products or services; changes in the regulatory environment in which we operate, including any increase in restrictions on our ability to operate our networks; breaches of network or information technology security, natural disasters, terrorist attacks or acts of war or significant litigation and any resulting financial impact not covered by insurance; the effects of competition in the markets in which we operate; changes in accounting assumptions that regulatory agencies, including the SEC, may require or that result from changes in the accounting rules or their application, which could result in an impact on earnings; significant increases in benefit plan costs or lower investment returns on plan assets; and the inability to implement our business strategies.

No Offer or Solicitation

This communication does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any securities or a solicitation of any vote or approval nor shall there be any offer or sale of securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction. No offer of securities shall be made except by means of a prospectus meeting the requirements of Section 10 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements thereof.
