On September 11, 2015, Marvell Technology Group Ltd. ( Marvell ) issued a press release regarding its results of operations for the second fiscal quarter and six months ended August 1, 2015. A copy of the press release is furnished herewith as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference herein.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On May 7, 2014, the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania (the District Court ) entered final judgment for $1,535,889,387.60 in a patent infringement suit brought by Carnegie Mellon University ( CMU ) against Marvell. On May 14, 2014, Marvell filed a notice of appeal with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit ( Federal Circuit ). To stay the execution of the District Court's final judgment pending its appeal to the Federal Circuit, Marvell filed with the District Court two supersedeas bonds, one in October 2013, which was unsecured and in the amount of $1.54 billion (the Primary Bond ), and a second in November 2014, which was secured and in the amount of $216 million. The Primary Bond was issued by a consortium of sureties (the Sureties ) authorized by the U.S. Treasury. In support of the Primary Bond, Marvell entered into a Bond-Specific Indemnity Agreement with each Surety in October 2013 (the Indemnity Agreement ), pursuant to which Marvell shall indemnify each Surety for costs and expenses made under each bond. On August 4, 2015, the Federal Circuit issued an opinion affirming on liability, laches, and royalty rate, and reversing on willfulness and related enhancement, and vacating the royalty base based upon the principle of extraterritoriality, thereby limiting the current judgment to $278,406,045.50, consisting of 50 cents per chip for the 556,812,091 chip sales that CMU's expert estimated as imported into the United States, and remanding for a partial new trial to determine the location of the remaining chip sales. Pursuant to the Indemnity Agreement, the Sureties are allowed to demand that Marvell provide collateral to secure its obligations. A copy of the Indemnity Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.2 and incorporated by reference herein.
