Annual Report

December 31, 2016

Commodity Futures Trading Commission Registration. Effective December 31, 2012, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ( CFTC ) adopted certain regulatory changes that subject registered investment companies and advisers to regulation by the CFTC if a fund invests more than a prescribed level of its assets in certain CFTC-regulated instruments (including futures, certain options and swap agreements) or markets itself as providing investment exposure to such instruments. The Fund has claimed an exclusion from the definition of the term commodity pool operator under the Commodity Exchange Act. Accordingly, neither the Fund nor the adviser with respect to the operation of the Fund is subject to CFTC regulation. Because of its management of other strategies, the Fund s adviser is registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator and a commodity trading advisor.

Managed Distribution Plan. Pursuant to an exemptive order issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission (Order), the Fund is authorized to distribute long-term capital gains to shareholders more frequently than once per year. Pursuant to the Order, the Fund s Board of Trustees approved a Managed Distribution Plan (MDP) pursuant to which the Fund makes monthly cash distributions to common shareholders, stated in terms of a fixed amount per common share.

The Fund currently distributes monthly cash distributions equal to $0.1108 per share in accordance with the MDP. You should not draw any conclusions about the Fund s investment performance from the amount of these distributions or from the terms of the MDP. The MDP will be subject to regular periodic review by the Fund s Board of Trustees and the Board may amend or terminate the MDP at any time without prior notice to Fund shareholders. However, at this time there are no reasonably foreseeable circumstances that might cause the termination of the MDP.

The Fund may distribute more than its net investment income and net realized capital gains and, therefore, a distribution may include a return of capital. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund s investment performance and should not be confused with yield or income. With each distribution, the Fund will issue a notice to shareholders and a press release containing information about the amount and sources of the distribution and other related information. The amounts and sources of distributions contained in the notice and press release are only estimates and are not provided for tax purposes. The amounts and sources of the Fund s distributions for tax purposes will be reported to shareholders on Form 1099-DIV for each calendar year.

Fund shares are not insured by the FDIC and are not deposits or other obligations of, or guaranteed by, any depository institution. Shares are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of principal invested.

Management s Discussion of Fund Performance

Economic and Market Conditions

U.S. stock markets rose in the 12-month period ended December 31, 2016, as the nation s economy continued to strengthen and the outcome of the U.S. presidential election gave stocks a late-period boost.

U.S. stocks as well as international markets opened the period on the downside amid worries about falling oil prices, declining interest rates and slowing global growth, particularly in China. The pullback began in early January 2016 and continued into mid-February, when stocks turned around and soon overcame the earlier losses. Coinciding with the move was a reversal in crude oil prices, which rose following a prolonged decline.

In June 2016, U.S. stocks plunged along with international markets following Britain s Brexit vote to leave the European Union. However, equity markets, led by the U.S., quickly rallied from the two-day tailspin and recovered the lost ground. Helped by stronger U.S. economic indicators, major U.S. stock indexes reached multiple record highs during July and August 2016.

U.S. equity markets retreated in late August 2016 amid falling oil prices and fears about a possible interest rate increase. The U.S. Federal Reserve s (the Fed s) decision at its September 2016 meeting to leave rates unchanged, along with an agreement by the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) to curb oil production, sent stocks briefly higher. In November 2016, stocks rallied sharply following the victory of Donald Trump in the U.S. presidential election. The broad-based Trump Bump was led by financial stocks as well as the aerospace & defense industry. Financial stocks got another boost in mid-December 2016 when the Fed raised its benchmark interest rate amid stronger economic growth reports.

For the 12-month period, the blue-chip Dow Jones Industrial Average<sup>2</sup> advanced 16.50%, while the broader U.S. equity market, as represented by the S&P 500 Index, returned 11.96%. The technology-laden NASDAQ Composite Index delivered an 8.87% gain. Small-cap U.S. stocks, as measured by the Russell 2000® Index outperformed their large-cap counterparts, as measured by the S&P 500 Index during the period. Value stocks as a group outpaced growth stocks in both the large- and small-cap categories, as measured by the Russell value and growth indexes.

Fund Performance

For the 12-month period ended December 31, 2016, Eaton Vance Tax-Managed Buy-Write Opportunities Fund (the Fund) had a total return of 6.04% at net asset value (NAV), underperforming the 11.96% return of its benchmark, the S&P 500 Index (the Index), the 7.27% return of the NASDAQ-100 Index, and the 7.07% return of the CBOE S&P 500 BuyWrite Index, but outperforming the 5.81% return of the CBOE NASDAQ-100 BuyWrite Index.

The Fund s underlying common stock portfolio underperformed the Index during the period and thus detracted from relative performance, but the Fund s options overlay strategy was the largest detractor from Fund performance versus the Index.

The Fund employs an options strategy of writing (selling) stock index call options on a portion of its underlying common stock portfolio. The options strategy, which is designed to help limit the Fund s exposure to market volatility and to provide current income, proved disadvantageous during a 12-month period marked by generally low volatility in the equity markets and a strong market upturn in late June 2016, when equity markets rallied back sharply after initially declining post-Brexit (Great Britain s June 23 vote to leave the European Union). When the market turned upward, some of the Fund s writing of call options ended in losses and detracted from performance versus the Index.

Within the Fund s common stock portfolio, stock selection in the information technology and consumer staples sectors detracted from performance versus the Index, as did an underweight relative to the Index in energy, the best-performing sector in the Index during the period. Within information technology, the Fund s overweight position in Alphabet, Inc., parent company of Google, detracted from relative Fund performance. Alphabet s stock underperformed the Index on concerns the company s growth rate was moderating, as well as a general post-election market rotation that hurt technology stocks and favored the energy, industrials and financials sectors. Elsewhere in information technology, not owning Index component NVIDIA Corp., a producer of 3-D graphics chips, hurt relative results as the stock performed strongly on favorable reaction to NVIDIA s introduction of new chip designs. In consumer staples, the Fund s overweight in cosmetics firm Estee Lauder Cos., which does a significant amount of its business overseas, declined in value on concern that a strengthening U.S. dollar would lower the value of overseas profits.

In contrast, stock selection in the consumer discretionary sector and an underweight in the real estate sector helped Fund performance versus the Index. In consumer discretionary, the Fund s overweight position in telecommunication services provider Comcast Corp., a dividend-paying stock, rose in value as investors sought out income during the low-rate environment that existed for much of the period. Comcast stock also benefited from the perception that firms doing most of their business in the U.S. might see lower tax rates under a new U.S. administration. Similarly, the Fund s overweight holding in hotelier Marriott International, Inc., also in consumer discretionary, benefited post-election from the anticipation of corporate tax reform.

See Endnotes and Additional Disclosures in this report.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Returns are historical and are calculated by determining the percentage change in net asset value (NAV) or market price (as applicable) with all distributions reinvested and include management fees and other expenses. Fund performance at market price will differ from its results at NAV due to factors such as changing perceptions about the Fund, market conditions, fluctuations in supply and demand for Fund shares, or changes in Fund distributions. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Performance less than or equal to one year is cumulative. Performance is for the stated time period only; due to market volatility, current Fund performance may be lower or higher than the quoted return.
