CONFIDENTIAL NOT FOR EXTERNAL DISTRIBUTION

TO: All General Cable Team Members

DATE: December 4, 2017

Dear General Cable Team Members,

Today marks a fundamentally important and exciting day in our Company's history. We have just announced that Prysmian Group and General Cable will combine to create the largest and most capable wire and cable company in the world. A copy of the press release can be found here [\[http://investor.generalcable.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=81254&p=irol-newsArticle&ID=2320740\]](http://investor.generalcable.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=81254&p=irol-newsArticle&ID=2320740).

This transaction best positions our Company to meet the future opportunities and challenges in our dynamic and evolving industry, which demands ever more efficient and technically sophisticated wire and cable solutions and capabilities. Together, we will be able to deliver - consistently across the globe - a robust portfolio of products and services and new product innovation to meet these challenges and capitalize on these opportunities.

As a result of your dedication and hard work over the past several years, we are more focused, more efficient and more competitive than ever. We are viewed with great respect by our customers and the industry in general, which is a testament to you and your ongoing commitment to our Company. You should be proud of all that we have accomplished through our transformation program. Our work has best positioned the Company to take this critical next step for its long-term future.

I firmly believe this is the right time, and Prysmian Group is the right partner to begin this new chapter of our Company's journey. Prysmian Group has an outstanding reputation, is well-respected, and is globally recognized as the progressive leader in the industry. [\[Click here for company profile\]](#)

We have complementary businesses and technologies that leverage each other's strengths. Specifically:

Broader product and technology offerings, for example in fiber optic communications and in high voltage land and subsea cables and turnkey services

Acceleration of innovation by combining and continuing both companies' complementary technology investments

Increased investments to improve processes and systems, resulting in higher customer service and delivery performance levels, reduced lead times

Today's announcement of a signed purchase agreement is just the first step of the process. This transaction must go through regulatory and shareholder approvals and other customary closing conditions. We expect this process to be complete by third quarter, 2018.

Until the transaction closes, it's important to remember that we are still two separate Companies. We must continue to compete with each other as we do today. That means we should not collaborate with each other, jointly approach customers, or exchange sensitive commercial information until the transaction is concluded.

I realize this news probably evokes many different feelings for you; it does for me. The strategic alternatives process has been long and rigorous. Our Board conducted a careful review and consideration of all possible alternatives before arriving at this decision in the best interests of all stakeholders. Throughout this time, there has been a lot of uncertainty, and I recognize that the uncertainty may continue for a few months more. I continue to appreciate and am grateful for your commitment to concentrate on your responsibilities to our business, customers and fellow team members.

It is too soon to know what changes may occur after the transaction closes. An integration team will be formed during this period to develop a plan to combine the Companies after closing. We will share information with you about this plan when we are able.

I deeply appreciate all that you all do each and every day. I thank you for your hard work, dedication and focus as we take this next strategic step to create the largest and most capable wire and cable Company in the world.

/s/ Mike McDonnell
