ITEM 1.01. Entry into Material Definitive Agreement

On February 13, 2006, Dalrada Financial Corporation issued convertible notes to various investors in exchange for Gross proceeds of $5,000,000, with $4,384,800 of net proceeds going to the Company. $1,757,902 of the net proceeds were used directly to pay debt settlements.

The convertible notes mature in two years, at a 15% per annum interest rate and call for monthly interest payments with the principal due on maturity. If Dalrada defaults on the interest payments, the investors will have the right to convert the notes into common shares at a seventy-five percent (75%) discount to market price. In addition, warrants for 1,352,000,000 shares of common stock with an exercise price of $.005 were issued to the investors as part of the funding. These warrants expire in seven years and have a cashless exercise provision.

Concurrent with the funding, certain Dalrada investors holding convertible notes exchanged such notes plus any related accrued interest and penalties, for new notes with the same terms as referenced above. These notes are valued at $2,545.093.
