FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BROWN-FORMAN REPORTS STRONG EARNINGS FOR THE FIRST QUARTER

Louisville, KY, August 31, 2006 - Brown-Forman Corporation reported diluted earnings per share from continuing operations for its first quarter ended July 31, 2006 of $0.76, up 6% from the $0.71 earned in the same prior year period. (1) Prior year earnings benefited from a $0.07 per share gain related to the termination of distribution rights to third party agency brands. Excluding this gain and a $0.05 per share quarter-over-quarter benefit of foreign exchange, earnings per share grew 11%. Volume growth and margin improvement for the company's premium global portfolio, led by Jack Daniel's Tennessee Whiskey, drove results in the period. Nearly every brand in the company's portfolio recorded gross profit gains in the quarter, also contributing to earnings improvement.

Revenues and gross profit increased by 17% and 16%, respectively, in the quarter. Comparisons to the prior year were affected by the previously mentioned foreign exchange benefit and changes in the company's distribution arrangements in Australia and Germany, the most significant of which resulted in the company now being responsible for the collection and remittance of excise taxes in these markets. These changes had the effect of boosting revenue by $33 million, or 6%, while lowering the gross margin by approximately 2.2 percentage points. The company's gross margin on a stripped net sales basis (gross profit as a percentage of net sales excluding excise tax) was 68.7%, up approximately 1.3 percentage points. Management believes this measure provides a more meaningful metric given the structural changes in distribution that have occurred.

(1) All financial and statistical information included in this press release reflects continuing operations of the Company's businesses for all periods presented unless otherwise indicated.

Edgar Filing: BROWN FORMAN CORP - Form 8-K

Advertising expenses in the quarter were up $9 million, or 12%, as a result of additional investments behind the company's premium global brands. SG&A expenses increased approximately $21 million, or 19%, compared to the same prior year period due in part to incremental costs associated with changes in the company's distribution arrangements in Australia and Germany, which were accompanied by corresponding increases in gross profit. Additionally, expenses associated with the reorganization and consolidation of the company's wine and spirits sales and marketing organizations contributed to the increase in SG&A spending in the quarter.

Operating income increased $7 million, up 5% over the prior year period, as gross profit growth more than offset higher SG&A and brand investments. As noted above, the prior year's first quarter included $14 million of income from consideration received for the termination of the company's distribution rights to third party agency brands, which negatively affected quarter-over-quarter comparisons. Excluding the impact of this item and the current year foreign exchange benefit of nearly $10 million, operating income grew approximately 10%.

Jack Daniel's global depletions<sup>(2)</sup> grew at a mid-single digit rate in the quarter. Outside of the U.S., volumes were up at a double-digit rate, led by strong growth in Continental Europe and Asia. In the U.S., the brand's volume growth moderated, increasing at a low-single digit rate for the quarter. Global volumes for Southern Comfort grew 5% in the quarter, as double-digit gains in the U.S. more than offset declines internationally. Finlandia volumes remained solid, fueled by double-digit rate gains in Poland, the brand's largest market, and a high-single digit growth rate in the U.S.

(2) Depletions are shipments from wholesale distributors to retail customers, and are commonly regarded in the industry as an approximate measure of consumer demand.

Full-Year Outlook

The company's full-year earnings outlook remains unchanged at $3.10 to $3.30 per share, representing growth of 7% to 14% over comparable prior year earnings. Despite the favorable impact of foreign exchange, the company has not changed its outlook for the remainder of this fiscal year given the uncertainty surrounding the domestic economic environment, slightly moderating U.S. growth trends for Jack Daniel's, and the impact of lower volumes and higher costs for the company's mid-priced wine brands.

This outlook excludes the recently announced agreement to acquire Casa Herradura. As previously communicated, we project the pending acquisition to be dilutive to our earnings through fiscal 2009. In fiscal 2007 we estimate the transaction will dilute earnings in the range of $0.08 to $0.12 per share.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS:

This report contains statements, estimates, or projections that constitute "forward-looking statements" as defined under U.S. federal securities laws. Generally, the words "expect," "believe," "intend," "estimate," "will," "anticipate," and "project," and similar expressions identify a forward-looking statement, which speaks only as of the date the statement is made. Except as required by law, we do not intend to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. We believe that the expectations and assumptions with respect to our forward-looking statements are reasonable. But by their nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that in some cases are out of our control. These factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from Brown-Forman's historical experience or our present expectations or projections. Here is a non-exclusive list of such risks and uncertainties:

- changes in general economic conditions, particularly in the United States where we earn a significant portion of our profits;
- lower consumer confidence or purchasing in the wake of catastrophic events;
- tax increases, whether at the federal or state level or in major international markets and/or tariff barriers or other restrictions affecting beverage alcohol;
- limitations and restrictions on distribution of products and alcohol marketing, including advertising and promotion, as a result of stricter governmental policies adopted either in the United States or globally;
- adverse developments in the class action lawsuits filed against Brown-Forman and other spirits, beer and wine manufacturers alleging that our industry conspired to promote the consumption of alcohol by those under the legal drinking age;
- a strengthening U.S. dollar against foreign currencies, especially the British Pound, Euro, and Australian Dollar;
- reduced bar, restaurant, hotel and travel business, including travel retail, in the wake of terrorist attacks;
- lower consumer confidence or purchasing associated with rising energy prices;
- longer-term, a change in consumer preferences, social trends or cultural trends that results in the reduced consumption of our premium spirits brands;
- changes in distribution arrangements in major markets that limit our ability to market or sell our products;
- increases in the price of energy or raw materials, including grapes, grain, wood, glass, and plastic;
- excess wine inventories or a world-wide oversupply of grapes;
- termination of our rights to distribute and market agency brands included in our portfolio;
- adverse developments as a result of state investigations of beverage alcohol industry trade practices of suppliers, distributors and retailers.
