Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

Washington Trust Bancorp, Inc. (the “Corporation”) is providing additional information with respect to the isolated external fraud matter referenced in its press release dated October 23, 2017.

Earlier in 2017, a customer of The Washington Trust Company, of Westerly (the “Bank”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Corporation, reported that two checks that were mailed by the customer to a vendor were altered to change the payee on the checks and increase the amount of one of the checks. The checks were diverted and deposited by an unknown party at another bank. The altered checks then passed through the banking system in a routine manner and were charged against the customer’s account at the Bank. The Bank has reimbursed its customer for the amount inappropriately charged against the customer’s account. Despite demand by us, the other bank has refused to return the funds since we notified them of the event several months ago. The Bank is currently pursuing legal action against the other bank to recover the lost funds, which represents the $570,000 expense amount reported in the press release. At this time, the Bank is unable to determine the eventual outcome of this action. No employee or customer of the Bank was involved in the fraudulent activity.
