WEBSTER TO ACQUIRE FIRSTFED AMERICA BANCORP, INC.,
BROADENS SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND FRANCHISE

{NOTE: CONFERENCE CALL AT 10:00 A.M. TODAY, OCTOBER 7; INFORMATION ON PAGE 3.}

WATERBURY, Conn., October 7, 2003 - Webster Financial Corporation (NYSE:WBS), the holding company for Webster Bank, today announced that it has reached a definitive agreement to acquire FIRSTFED AMERICA BANCORP, INC. (AMEX:FAB), headquartered in Swansea, Massachusetts, the holding company for First Federal Savings Bank of America. The agreement is a combination cash and stock transaction valued at approximately $465 million, or $24.50 per common share of FIRSTFED stock, payable 60% in Webster stock and 40% in cash.

Upon completion of the acquisition, FIRSTFED shareholders will be entitled to receive either 0.5954 shares of Webster common stock or $24.50 in cash for each share of FIRSTFED common stock, subject to proration.

The combined bank would rank as the 46th largest in the United States, with $16 billion in assets, market capitalization of $2.2 billion and a 141-branch retail footprint in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

and whose strategic goals are highly compatible with our own," said James C. Smith, Webster chairman and chief executive officer. "Together, Webster and FIRSTFED create a powerful franchise stretching across Southern New England from lower Fairfield County through Connecticut and Rhode Island to southeastern Massachusetts. The merger opens new opportunities and establishes a platform for future growth in the region."

FIRSTFED AMERICA BANCORP is a federally chartered savings and loan holding company with $2.7 billion in assets at June 30, 2003 and 26 branches, 19 in Massachusetts and 7 in Rhode Island.

The purchase price is 2.08 times FIRSTFED's book value and represents a premium of 22.4 per cent to deposits, excluding jumbo certificates of deposit. The acquisition is expected to contribute positively to Webster's earnings per share immediately, excluding one-time merger-related costs in 2004.

FIRSTFED and Webster will merge operations, and existing FIRSTFED branches will be renamed as branches of Webster Bank. Both companies have similar structures with extensive consumer, mortgage and commercial banking operations, and both also have insurance agencies and trust companies. Webster intends to retain the existing FIRSTFED branch locations and all customer service personnel.

Robert F. Stoico, FIRSTFED chairman, president and chief executive officer, will be Webster's chairman and chief executive officer for the Massachusetts and Rhode Island region, and he will join the board of directors of Webster Financial Corporation and Webster Bank. FIRSTFED executive vice president, chief operating officer and chief financial officer Edward A. Hjerpe III, will serve as president and chief operating officer of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island region.

FIRSTFED Chairman Stoico said, "In considering strategic alternatives, our board of directors placed great value on the compatibility of Webster's strategy and culture and on leadership that will enable us to compete effectively as a regional financial services company. This partnership is excellent news for our shareholders, customers and the communities FIRSTFED serves."

In connection with the merger, Webster plans to deleverage its balance sheet by up to $1.5 billion through a combination of investment portfolio reduction, loan sales or securitization. The deleveraging will improve the combined company's funding mix and accelerate Webster's transition to a commercial bank.

Excluding estimated one-time merger-related costs of $3.1 million, but including the impact of balance sheet restructuring, Webster expects its 2004 diluted GAAP earnings per share will reflect approximately 1.0% accretion, including anticipated cost savings. For 2005, the first full year of combined operations, Webster expects the transaction to be 1.4% accretive to its diluted GAAP earnings per share. Webster has identified over $9 million of revenue enhancement opportunities, but has not factored them into its projections.

The definitive agreement, which was unanimously approved by FIRSTFED's board of directors, is subject to approval by regulatory authorities and FIRSTFED's shareholders. Webster expects the transaction to close in the first quarter of 2004.
