TOYOTA MOTOR CORPORATION

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

1. Basis of preparation:

The accompanying semi-annual condensed consolidated financial statements of Toyota Motor Corporation ("Toyota") as of September 30, 2002 and for the six month periods ended September 30, 2001 and 2002, respectively, have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and on substantially the same basis as Toyota's annual consolidated financial statements. The semi-annual condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with Toyota's Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended March 31, 2002. The semi-annual condensed consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the results for those periods and the financial condition at those dates. The consolidated results for six month periods are not necessarily indicative of results to be expected for the full year.

U.S. dollar amounts are included solely for the convenience of the reader at the rate of (Y)122.60 = U.S. $1, the approximate current exchange rate at September 30, 2002.

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("FAS") No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. FAS No. 142 requires goodwill and intangible assets having an indefinite useful life to be tested for impairment under certain circumstances, and written off when impaired, rather than being amortized as previous standards required. Toyota adopted the provisions of FAS No. 142 as of April 1, 2002. At the date of initial adoption, FAS No. 142 requires to perform impairment test for goodwill and intangible assets segmented as those having an indefinite useful life. Toyota recognized no impairment losses on these assets as a result of testing. In addition, FAS No. 142 requires to disclose, in the period of initial application, income before extraordinary items and net income for all periods presented adjusted as if FAS No. 142 had been applied in these periods, including any adjustments for changes in amortization periods, if any, for intangible assets continuously amortized after the adoption of FAS No. 142. Goodwill on Toyota's balance sheet as at April 1, 2002, the initial application of the statement, March 31, 2001, and September 30, 2001, was insignificant, accordingly, the impact of amortization of goodwill was immaterial for the six month period ended September 30, 2001 and the impact of cessation of amortization is immaterial for the six month period ended September 30, 2002. The amortization periods of intangible assets having a definite useful life as of the date of the initial adoption were not changed based on Toyota's assessment, required by FAS No. 142. Toyota's intangible assets having an indefinite useful life, so decided based on Toyota's assessment as of the date of initial adoption, mainly consist of intangible assets relating to employees' retirement benefits, which have not been amortized before and after the adoption. Carrying amounts of goodwill and other intangible assets as of September 30, 2002, reported in "Other" of "Investments and other assets" were (Y) 7,278 million ($ 59 million) and (Y) 144,936 million ($ 1,182 million), respectively.

In August 2001, the FASB issued FAS No.144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. FAS No. 144 supersedes FAS No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of, and provides new rules on asset impairment and a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of. Although retaining many of the fundamental recognition and measurement provisions of FAS No. 121, the new rules significantly change the criteria that would have to be met to classify an asset as held-for-sale. The new rules also supersede the provisions of APB Opinion No. 30, Reporting the Results of Operations - Reporting the Effects of Disposal of a Segment of a Business, and Extraordinary, Unusual and Infrequently Occurring Events and Transactions, with regard to reporting the effects of a disposal of a segment of a business and require expected future operating losses from discontinued operations to be displayed in discontinued operations in the period(s) in which the losses are incurred. Toyota adopted the provisions of FAS No. 144 as of April 1, 2002. The adoption of FAS No. 144 did not have a material impact on Toyota's consolidated financial statements.

Edgar Filing: TOYOTA MOTOR CORP/ - Form 6-K

Pursuant to FASB Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 01-09, "Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer (Including a Reseller of the Vendor's Products)", Toyota has reclassified certain sales incentives which fall into the scope from selling, general and administrative expenses to a reduction of revenues, for all periods presented.

In June 2001, the FASB issued FAS No.143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations. Toyota is required to adopt FAS No. 143 effective April 1, 2003. FAS No. 143 requires full recognition of asset retirement obligations on the balance sheet from the point in time at which a legal obligation exists. The obligation is required to be measured at fair value. The carrying value of the asset or assets to which the retirement obligation relates would be increased by an amount equal to the liability recognized. This amount would then be included in the depreciable base of the asset and charged to income over its life as depreciation. Toyota is currently in the process of evaluating the impact that FAS No. 143 will have on its financial statements.

In June 2002, the FASB issued FAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. FAS No. 146 requires to recognize a liability for costs relating to exit or disposal activities when incurred rather than when management's commitment to exit plan as current accounting guidance requires. Toyota is required to adopt this provision to exit or disposal activities initiated after December 31, 2002. Toyota does not expect this statement to have a material impact on Toyota's consolidated financial statements.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation ("FIN") No. 45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others". FIN No. 45 clarifies that a guarantor is required to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the certain guarantee within its scope. FIN No. 45 also elaborates on the disclosure to be made by a guarantor. Toyota is currently in the process of evaluating the impact that FIN No. 45 will have on its financial statements.

2. Net income per share:

Basic net income per common share is calculated by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reported period (3,674,614,684 and 3,595,184,689 shares for the six month periods ended September 30, 2001 and 2002, respectively). The calculation of diluted net income per common share is similar to the calculation of basic net income per common share, except that the weighted-average number of shares outstanding includes the additional dilution from assumed exercise of dilutive stock options. The effective of dilutive stock options was de-minims for the six month periods ended September 30, 2001 and 2002.

3. Reclassification:

Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the presentation in the six month period ended September 30, 2002.

Edgar Filing: TOYOTA MOTOR CORP/ - Form 6-K

4. Comprehensive income:

Toyota's total comprehensive income for the six month periods ended September 30, 2001 and 2002 was as follows:

5. Segment data:

The operating segments reported below are the segments of Toyota for which separate financial information is available and for which operating income/loss amounts are evaluated regularly by executive management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. The major portions of Toyota's operations on a worldwide basis are derived from the Automotive and Financial Services business segments. The Automotive segment designs, manufactures, assembles and distributes passenger cars, recreational and sport-utility vehicles, minivans, trucks and related parts and accessories. The Financial Services segment consists primarily of financing operations, and vehicle and equipment leasing operations to assist in the merchandising of Toyota's products as well as other products. The All Other segment includes Toyota's transportation business, telecommunications business, and various other business activities.

The following tables present certain information regarding Toyota's industry segments and operations by geographic areas at March 31, 2002 and September 30,
