UNAUDITED FINANCIAL RESULTS ANNOUNCEMENT
FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2004

The directors of PCCW Limited (the "PCCW" or the "Company") announce the unaudited consolidated results for the Company and its subsidiaries (the "Group") for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. These results have not been audited, but have been reviewed by the Company's Audit Committee and are extracted from the financial information that has been reviewed by the Company's independent auditors, PricewaterhouseCoopers, in accordance with Standard on Assurance Engagements 100 "Framework for assurance engagements intended to provide either a high or moderate level of assurance" issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. The review consisted principally of making enquiries of management and applying certain other procedures to the financial information including agreeing the financial information to the books and records of the Company for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 and is substantially less in scope than an audit.

As announced on August 26, 2004, the Board of Directors (the "Board") intended, in the absence of unforeseen circumstances, to declare an interim dividend in an amount of 5.5 HK cents per ordinary share or an aggregate amount of approximately HK$295 million, which it is intended to be payable on a record date falling on or around the end of November 2004, to shareholders on the Register of Members on the record date. In order to formally declare the proposed dividend in compliance with the Companies Ordinance, the Company has prepared, and filed with the Registrar of Companies, the unaudited unconsolidated accounts of PCCW for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 on November 2, 2004. The purpose of this announcement is to keep the shareholders of the Company and the public informed of its financial results.

While EBITDA is commonly used in the telecommunications industry worldwide as an indicator of operating performance, leverage and liquidity, it is not presented as a measure of operating performance in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong and should not be considered as representing net cash flows from operating activities. The computation of the Group's EBITDA may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.*

REVENUE

The consolidated revenue for the Group for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 remained stable at HK$15,970 million compared to the same period in 2003. This was primarily due to an increase in revenue recognized from Bel-Air sales, increased revenue from Unihub, the Group's IT solutions business, and continuing growth in the broadband Internet access business. The increase was partially offset by a reduction in the overall number of direct exchange lines in service operated by the Group, and the significant downward pricing pressure in the traditional local data and international telecommunications markets.

Local Telephony Services. Revenue from local telephony services for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 12 percent to HK$4,016 million. This primarily reflected a reduction in the overall number of direct exchange lines in service operated by the Group as a result of the intense competition from other fixed-line operators and substitution by broadband access lines and wireless telecommunications services.

On October 8, 2004, the Office of the Telecommunications Authority (OFTA) proposed an industry consultation to move its regulation of the fixed line services of PCCW-HKT Telephone Limited (PCCW-HKT) from ex ante regulation (i.e., prior approval of tariffs with PCCW-HKT being presumed dominant) to ex post regulation (i.e., no prior approval of tariffs and no presumption of dominance). The industry consultation period will end on November 19, 2004. Management believes that the new regulatory regime will enhance the Group's competitiveness in its fixed line business by allowing the Group to introduce new services and new service packages to the market in a timely manner.

Separately, on October 4, 2004, OFTA launched an industry consultation to invite views on the regulation of Internet Protocol (IP) Telephony. The consultation period will end on December 4, 2004. The Group fully supports the use of IP technology, as is evident from its launch of now Broadband TV and NGFL services.

On October 11, 2004 PCCW-HKT applied to the High Court of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region to commence judicial review proceedings of a decision by the Telecommunications Authority relating to Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP). Such decision allows another fixed line service provider to use PCCW's network to provide local Internet phone services, which PCCW-HKT believes may be in violation of such operator's fixed telecommunications network services license.

Local Data Services. Local data services revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 1 percent to HK$3,274 million. Total broadband access lines continued to grow by 17 percent to 774,000 as at September 30, 2004. Increase in broadband revenue counter-balanced the decline in revenue due to severe pricing pressure in the provision of local area and wide area (LAN and WAN) corporate networks and high-speed, high-volume data transmissions from mobile telephone operators and Internet service providers.

International Telecommunications Services. International telecommunications services revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 22 percent to HK$1,785 million. The international telecommunications markets continued to be extremely competitive, driving down retail prices while boosting traffic volume.

Other Services. Other services revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 5 percent to HK$2,281 million. This was mainly due to a decline in customer premise equipment (CPE) sales revenue which was partially offset by an increase in technical consultancy and network operation outsourcing services revenue.

Business eSolutions

Business eSolutions revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 increased 19 percent to HK$1,983 million. This was mainly due to more significant revenue contribution from Unihub, the Group's IT business, including Unihub China Information Technology Company Limited, the Group's subsidiary co-owned with China Telecommunications Corporation established in 2003. Revenue from the Group's business broadband and directories businesses remained stable.

Infrastructure

Infrastructure revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 increased 32 percent to HK$3,275 million.

Up to September 30, 2004, 1,503 Bel-Air apartments have been sold, generating approximately HK$14,643 million in pre-sales proceeds. The Group recognized HK$2,933 million revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, a 39 percent increase from the same period in 2003, on the basis of percentage of completion in accordance with industry practice.

Others and Elimination

Other revenue increased 13 percent to HK$287 million. This primarily included revenue from the Group's businesses in Taiwan and Japan.

Elimination of HK$931 million predominantly related to internal charges for communications services consumed, IT support and computer system network charges, customer support services and rental between the Group's business units.

COSTS

Total costs of sales and services for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 increased 21 percent to HK$6,762 million. In line with the percentage of completion methodology, certain construction and establishment costs of the Cyberport project previously capitalized were recognized as cost of sales to match against the revenue recorded during the period. Start-up costs in relation to the Group's Unihub businesses in mainland China were also incurred during the period. TSS costs of sales and services increased 7 percent to HK$3,095 million primarily due to an increase in marketing and customer acquisition costs of the Group's new products and services, such as now Broadband TV and NGFL services.

Operating costs before depreciation and amortization for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 6 percent to HK$4,473 million while operating costs for TSS decreased 2 percent to HK$3,285 million. This was primarily due to various strategic realignment plans and efficiency programs implemented and an increase in overall productivity level. The Group recognized some start-up costs for its wireless broadband business in the United Kingdom which offset a portion of the savings in total operating costs.

EBITDA

Group EBITDA for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased 15 percent to HK$4,735 million largely due to a change in the business mix and higher costs of sales. Correspondingly, group EBITDA margin for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 decreased to 30 percent while TSS EBITDA margin decreased to 44 percent, which were consistent with the EBITDA margins previously reported in the first six months of 2004.
